Subject Comments on NCAA self-study

To: All Faculty

Colleagues,

The President's Office has requested that I solicit your input on the University's self-study to the NCAA for our certification. The summary is on the web and there will also be 2 town meetings held (see message below). Please take a moment to read through these materials and/or attend one of the meetings and offer any comments.

Thank you,
Robert McGrath, Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs

Stony Brook's NCAA Certification Self-Study Summary Now Available:

A summary of the draft report of the NCAA Certification Self-Study sub-committees' work is available now through Friday, November 21, at www.stonybrook.edu/ncaa. The Steering Committee invites you to review the document and to share your opinions about this Executive Summary, which encapsulates the work of four subcommittees comprising more than 76 students, faculty, staff, and alumni. These four subcommittees have been examining the key areas of academic integrity; fiscal integrity; governance and rules compliance; and equity, welfare, and sportsmanship as they pertain to Stony Brook's Athletic Program.

Your comments and questions can be submitted online through a form at the web site referenced above. The summary is also available in alternative format upon request to George Meyer, Chair, NCAA Certification Self-Study Steering Committee. Please contact him by phone at 632-6270 or by e-mail at George.Meyer@stonybrook.edu.

Town Hall Meetings

In addition, the campus community is invited to attend two town hall meetings to voice opinions regarding the executive summary on Wednesday, November 19, at 12:40 p.m. in SAC Room 302, and at 9:30 p.m. in O'Neill Lounge, Mendelsohn Quad.
