2. * YOU GOT INKJETS? Old Cell Phones and PDAs? *

Recycle your empty Ink Jet cartridge, cell phone, and PDA.

Look for the "Got Inkjet" Free postage-paid envelope displays located throughout campus to easily recycle the above items.

Please contact Maria Maloney at 632-1287 and she will be happy to answer any questions you may have, or address your service needs, or provide you with new displays or envelopes.

DID YOU KNOW?

* According to a recent study, people living in the U.S. will soon be getting rid of about 130 million mobile phones every year.

* Every year, over 400 million cartridges, with a combined weight of 200 million pounds, are discarded into our nation's landfills.

* If every used cartridge was recovered for remanufacturing, we could conserve more than 283 million gallons of oil.

This message brought to you by the Department of Recycling/Resource Management.

Thank you.

2. Join us TODAY for "The Master Puppeteer: How the Brain Controls the Body," 4:30 p.m., Staller Center

Your favorite quarterback makes a miracle throw while dodging a 300-pound lineman-is the play's success due to pure athletic skill? Good luck? Or could the quarterback's subconscious memory be controlling the play? Daniel Wolpert, Ph.D., Professor of Motor Neuroscience and Co-Director of the Institute of Movement Neuroscience, University College London, will explain just how the brain controls motor performance and why computers will never be able to compete with human dexterity.

Join us for "The Master Puppeteer: How the Brain Controls the Body," on Monday, March 14 at 4:30 p.m. in the Staller Center for the Arts.

The lecture is free and intended for a general audience. A reception will follow the talk.

12. Indian Film Series 2005: Sholay (Embers) March 16, Wednesday, 7:00 p.m. Wang Center Theatre., Admission is free.

Sholay inaugurated the modern period of commercial Hindi cinema. Often described as India's best-known "curry" western, Sholay was patterned on American westerns. Two convicts and small time crooks (Amitabh and Dharmendra) are chosen by Thakur (Sanjeev Kumar), a former police officer, to seek vengeance on the dangerous bandit Gabbar Singh (Amjad Khan) because he killed all of Thakur's family (except a daughter-in-law) and maimed Thakur for life. This was a result of an earlier incident in which Thakur had captured Gabbar and helped in his conviction. Gabbar managed to escape and wreaked havoc in Thakur's life. The ensuing action makes for one of the most exciting Indian movies made to date. (Ramesh Sippy, 1975, 204 min., Hindi with English subtitles)

Todd Reynolds

Nuove Uova: New Works for Violin and Electricity, Wednesday, March 16, 2005 at 8:00,
Recital Hall - $30

Todd Reynolds, the most-up-to-date violinist and composer around, and also co-founder of the revolutionary string quartet, Ethel, brings us a line-up that defies style and genre: Nuove Uova: New Works for Violin and Electricity. The musicians coming to Staller are not only a chamber music group--they're a band, contemporary, hip and passionate. Together with Percussionist David Cossin, Vocalist Theo Bleckmann and others, Reynolds will weave together current music composed within the last three years by himself, Ingram Marshall, Phil Kline (recent CD-- "Zippo Songs: Airs of War and Lunacy") and Michael Gordon. Nuove Uova: New Works for Violin and Electricity more a show than a concert, having been performed nationally and internationally in clubs as well as concert halls.

18. Chinese Martial Arts Film Series 2005: Game of Death Tuesday, March 15, 7:00 p.m. Free to all.

At the time of his sudden death in 1973, Bruce Lee left unfinished a film in which he battles his way up a tower of formidable opponents, one level at a time. The producers spliced the finished footage together with highlights and leftovers from his previous films and concocted this metafictional story about a kung fu star named Billy Lo who fakes his own death and then battles his way up a tower of formidable opponents, one level at a time. Game of Death speaks volumes about the nature of cinematic stardom. (Robert Clouse, 1973, 94 min., English)
