February Photos

This issue's photo gallery shows the college community on a series of highs, though one is oxymoronic: high kicking, high spirits, high hopes, high drama and, for sports teams in playoffs, high disappointment. If you would like to submit photos of timely activities for future issues, e-mail pictures with a brief caption to proffice@oswego.edu.

Santander grant funds student study in Brazil

A $160,000 grant through Banco Santander and the SUNY system will enable 30 students in science-related fields from Oswego and elsewhere in SUNY to study at Oswego's global laboratories in Brazil over the next two years. Read more >

Atri pursues globalization research in China

Said Atri, professor of economics and an expert on globalization, recently began a nearly three-month visiting professorship with Shanghai Normal University, one of six Chinese partner institutions of SUNY Oswego. Read more >

Quest beginning to take shape

Many pieces of a stimulating Quest on April 13 have begun to come together on Jack Gelfand's "war room" wall. Special segments are emerging on the college's growing relationship with Brazil, on Native American heritage and dozens of other topics as students and faculty team on research projects. ## People in Action

In this issue, read about an Oswego exchange student's selection for a prestigious conference, faculty members' leadership, presentations, publications and creative activity, and an Officer of the Year. Read more >

Spotlight

Hamal Strayhorn enjoys staying busy, and so the multiple hats he wears for Residence Life and Housing fit him to a T — in this issue's Spotlight.
