September Photos

In this issue’s photo gallery, a mosaic of fashion and poetry, dance and crafts greets ALANA visitors, fall sports swing toward conference championships, service opportunities arise and an upcoming p-l-a-y prepares to open. If you would like to submit photos of timely activities for future issues, e-mail pictures with a brief caption to proffice@oswego.edu.

Brazil’s Science Without Borders picks Oswego

Becoming a destination for students in Brazil’s Science Without Borders project shows SUNY Oswego’s growing reputation in global education, Interim Provost Lorrie Clemo said. Read more >

New certificates address health care demand

Two new graduate certificate programs in health information will help address a pressing need, fueled by federal mandates and incentives, for trained workers to make medical records available electronically. Read more >

Book explores how innovation clusters develop

Science and Technology Based Regional Entrepreneurship, edited by professor Sarfraz Mian, takes a global view on how nations, regions and communities attract and sustain economic development through technological innovation. Read more >

Co-op program to provide earn-learn work experience

Oswego is launching the SUNY system’s first multiple-major co-op program, which can place students into full-time paying jobs in their areas of interest for up to six months. Read more >

People in Action

In this issue, read about faculty publications and awards recognizing the success of the college's Sustainability Fair. Read more >

Calendar Highlights

Wednesday, Sept. 28
• Campus discussion on accreditation self-study
• Concert: Ying Quartet

Thursday, Sept. 29
• No classes - Rosh Hashanah

Tuesday, Oct. 4
• Celebration of college founder’s birthday
New photography minor crosses disciplines
The art department this fall rolled out a new minor in photography, offering serious practitioners a 21-credit focus. Read more >

Small business center helps Pulaski firm grow
SUNY Oswego's Small Business Development Center actively assisted a Pulaski company that made the 2011 Inc. 5000 list and has started building air filtration systems and components here that had been built in China. Read more >

Spotlight
Taejin Jung, coordinator of the public relations degree program, says thought-provoking messages can improve student health and safety — in this issue's Spotlight.

Announcements

- Sesquicentennial continues with founder's birthday
- Outdoor speakers part of new notification system
- Walker begins flu clinics
- Oswego school district honors college with award
- Students get help obtaining grants
- Penfield invites submissions for 'Display to Archives'
- 'Bonobo Handshake' author to speak Oct. 5
- Steinkraus Lecture addresses ethical treatment of animals
- Police Report

Web Resources
Research News
Artswego
Athletics
Student Blogs
Recent Milestones
Faculty Assembly
Employment Opportunities
SUNY Oswego Home Page

Action Items
Submit news
RSS news feeds

Follow SUNY Oswego