April Photos

In this issue's photo gallery, Maori heritage and German folk culture express themselves in dance, the governor shares news about an on-time state budget, students show that the volunteer spirit is in their blood and theatre prepares mirth on a "Mattress." If you would like to submit photos of timely activities for future issues, email pictures with a brief caption to proffice@oswego.edu.

Lake-effect study to fly into heart of the storm

Meteorology faculty member Scott Steiger and students next winter will study lake-effect snow up close and personal -- very close -- thanks to $320,000 in grant funds from the National Science Foundation and an armada of instrument-loaded vehicles, including an airplane to fly into the teeth of the storms.
