The Writer’s Craft

An aura of kindness surrounds us all making us feel completely safe and secure with ourselves and with each other.

We the people who write the poets and poetesses of the world put our mark, our being to paper with pencil or pen bringing extreme life to blank pages.

We use words to create images of many things perhaps ordinarily dull Yet, not so with our creative word usage
We craft stories both fantasy and reality based true to our lives, our feelings our reasons for being.

These poems,
These wonderful works of art we like to share with others often pondering how others perceive the things that we write.

These writings, however they may be conceived or however they may truly be are a part of us that makes us whole They are in fact our autograph to the world
This is my mark, this is my autograph.

© 10-21-2003