Hayride, Dance Enjoyed By Over 100 Students

Last Saturday night, under a threatening sky, the students and some of the faculty carried on our annual tradition, the hayride. Wagons pulled away from the vicinity of Dalrymple's farm around seven P.M. This was immediately preceded by a long line of cars that could be mistaken for a funeral procession. Our little caravan of tractor-drawn wagons proceeded over the sideways and by-ways of Horseheads. As the party-goers on the last two vehicles ate everyone else's dust, the only sound audible was the roar of the tractor's motor. As the caravan traveled over the maze of back roads our students gazed at the glittering street lights of Elmira, below. As the watch on our drivers' wrist showed 8:30 we pulled into the barnyard and stopped, our first adventure of the evening.

Following the hayride on Saturday night, October 20, 1962, a rocking dance was held at the Harris Hill Community Cabin. Music for dancing was provided by the Moss Brothers of Elmira. Delicious cider and doughnuts were available downstairs through the able work of Mrs. "O". A really swinging time was had by all who attended.

Earn, Learn and Travel During European Vacation

Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, September 14, 1962 — The American Student Information Service, the only official, authorized organization placing American college students in summer jobs in Europe on a large scale, is celebrating its 6th anniversary by offering travel grants and cash scholarships from $10 to $175 to the first 1,000 students applying for summer jobs in Europe.

Summer jobs in Europe include factory work, resort-hotel work, construction work, office work, hospital work, child care and camp counseling positions. Jobs are available throughout Europe and wages range from $175 a month for the highest paying positions in Germany to only room and board in Spain. The jobs are offered in conjunction with package arrangements costing from $150 to $799. Among other things, each applicant is provided with an album of language records of the country in which he will be working, a student pass allowing the bearer discounts throughout Europe, complete health and accident insurance coverage and a choice of tours ranging from 6 to 24 days.

Although ASIS offers complete arrangements with a round-trip scheduled jet flight, students are free to make their own travel arrangements. ASIS expects that many students participating in college charter flights will also want summer jobs in Europe.

For a complete 20 page prospectus and a European job application, contact Mr. Chapman or write directly to ASIS, 22 Avenue de la Liberte, Luxembourg City, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg. Enclose 20 cents for airmail reply.

Apr. 1 — Dorian Woodwind Quintet

Please contact Mrs. Schreiber for tickets.

Library Given Aid

Eight area colleges are the beneficiaries of a grant of $3,000 to the College Center of the Finger Lakes by the Fund for the Advancement of Education. The gift was announced today by Dr. John J. Wittich, Director of the Center which includes six colleges: Alfred University, Corning Community College, Elmira College, Hobart and William Smith Colleges and Mansfield State College. Three additional colleges — Keuka College, Ithaca College and Wells College are also participating in the project.

The grant will be used primarily to finance a consultant who will direct the investigation of the librarians as to the possibilities for better equipment, space, and personnel utilization. Of particular interest are the possibilities in central book holdings, a book repair center, central cataloging and printing facilities, and a cooperative acquisition program for both books and periodicals.

The librarians have been informally investigating the possibilities of cooperation for some time. Earlier this year they published a list of periodical holdings to facilitate the use of these periodicals among all the colleges.

The members of the library committee are Mrs. Frances Heppenthal, Alfred University; Mr. Robert B. Murray, Alfred University College of Ceramics; Dr. John H. Martin, Corning Community College; Dr. William R. Lansburg, Elmira College; Miss Elizabeth Thalman, Hobart and William Smith Colleges; Miss Mary Campfield, Ithaca College; Miss Audrey North, Keuka College; Dr. Roy M. VanNote, Mansfield State College; Dr. Helen L. Sears, Wells College; and Dr. Wittich.

NEW METHOD OF CORONATION

It was announced today, by the Christmas Ball committee, that this year's king and queen contest will have a new name and an ingenious election system. A suggestion box will be supplied for the nominations of Barons and Baroness of the Christmas Ball. Upon a date to be released later, all nominations will be closed. Selection of five boys and five girls, from the group nominated, will be in the hands of a special committee. Final balloting will take place by donating to the nominees' penny jar, in pennies, any amount up to and/or not exceeding one dollar. All donations must be duly registered at the voting booth. Dates, times and places for nominations and elections will be posted later.

ZETETIC TAPS

Four new members of Zetetic, Woman's Honor Society, took the pledge of membership on October 24. Pledges are Carol Ashley, Jeanne Ellis, Carol Stilwell, and Janice Whitaker.

Three New Delegates Assume Responsibilities

The exciting week of campaigning speech making has ended for the nine candidates for Student Board. Eileen Kolynich, Mike Robinson, and Don Jensen came out victorious as a result of elections held on Friday, October 12.

The campaigning was launched on October 8, with petitions, promises, and posters. The candidates conceding to the victors were Pat Rooney, Deanna Whittle, Ray Barber, Olie O'Leary, Barry Campbell, Sam Leonard, Ralph Wiggins, and Joe Gublo. Signs of every description were seen on doors, bulletin boards, and dangling from purses, sweaters, and books.

As the campaign got underway with lively spirit on Thursday, October 11, the candidates' speeches were heard on the back steps of the Administration Building. About 125 students were present. Mike Robinson stressed that, "the only way to inspire the continuance of the (student association) system is by individual participation." Don Jensen felt sure there should be "more school spirit." Unity was also the theme of the speech given by Eileen Kolynich.

Our representatives have promised to work hard and harmoniously. Let's all give them our support, along with our congratulations.

KEN LAW

Corning Community College is fortunate to have Win Myint (better known as Ken Law) as a member of the class of '64. Ken came to us from Rangoon, Burma and is seventeen years old.

He became interested in Corning through an Ithaca, New York teacher who was teaching in Burma. Through the efforts of this teacher and Mrs. Helene Williams, Director of Admissions, his trip was made possible.

Ken is very impressed with the friendliness of the American people. When asked his opinion of the average girl he stated, "I like American girls. They are very pretty but a little forward compared to Asian girls."

As to Ken's future plans, he is undecided. He is now enrolled in the general education program and is a guest of Dr. and Mrs. Parker Hoffman.

The entire student body welcomes Ken, and we sincerely hope he has a successful year at Corning College.

AUTUMN LOVE SONG

by Ken Law

I see the falling leaves,
I hear the whispering breeze,
My heart for you doth cleave,
For you, my love.

The rain still patters on,
The leaves will soon be gone,
My heart is all forlorn,
For you, my love.

Across the oceans deep,
Across the seas so blue,
Beyond the mountains steep,
A kiss, I send to you.

In crimson, red and gold,
The autumn leaves unfold,
They bring me memories of old,
Of you, my love.

At night my sad tears fall,
Like autumn leaves they fall,
I long for you, my all,
For you, my love.

The wintry season makes me pine,
So old will be my heart:
So empty be these arms of mine,
Why did we have to part?

One day, I shall return,
Oh, for that day I'll yearn,
Then, leaves no more shall turn,
Mon amour, my love.

PROF OF THE MONTH

by John McLaughlin

This is a monthly column devoted to honoring deserving instructors from a humorous and satiric point of view. Without the complete co-operation and good nature of the entire faculty, this little diatribe would be impossible to produce. My first victim is Miss Rose Marie Sweeney, a new addition to the faculty, and an instructor in both freshmen and sophomore English.

Miss Sweeney, affectionately known as the Encyclopedia Britannica, graduated from the Marquis De Sade College of Cannibalish where she was captain of the tiddly winks teams. After receiving her degree in witchcraft, she entered the teaching profession.

Upon arrival at the C.C.C. campus, she was given a playful initiation which, unfortunately, hospitalized her for two weeks. Now, however, she is a familiar figure at all of our college functions — including funerals, book burnings, and bacchanals. Miss Sweeney is also the author of such great literary works as "Beowulf," "May This House Be Safe from Stupid Students," and "Twenty Letter Words and How to Use Them."

Most of Miss Sweeney's courses are conducted in Sanskrit and Anglo-Saxon, which add a distinct flavor to the class. Her stirring lectures have so often invoked the sacred muse of sleep that she has been voted Miss Sominex of 1962.

The translation of a difficult declaration into a modern idiom is an important duty of today's teacher. The sentence, "The dirty rat, in order to collect a reward, pulled out his gun and aimed it at his victim," is a hard passage for some of us to understand. Miss Sweeney changed it to "The unclean rodent, in order to receive a guerdon, extrecated his harquebus from his pocket to demolish the living organism quivering before him." Students need more clear translations such as this.

A staunch advocate of sneaky pop-quizzes and short convocations (at least on test days) Miss Sweeney is finding a warm place for herself in the heart of every student. Miss Sweeney is also famed for her quick wit. When asked if she enjoyed teaching here at C.C.C. she retorted with the classic remark, "Aw, your mudder wears army boots." Unfortunately, the Corning Police Chief has refused us permission to quote any more of her wit because it might corrupt him.

It has often been said than an individual can best be viewed from the eyes of others. Following are the comments of some of C.C.C.'s top students:

"Can't talknow gottageet into aeuchregame."

"She ain't a bad Prof. I couldn't hardly talk no grammar right before I gone into her class."

"Miss Sweeney is the most valuable addition to the faculty. She is entertaining, charming, and highly intelligent. Would you please print my name? You see, I'm flunking and . . ."

All kidding aside, once more my thanks to Miss Sweeney for allowing this satire to be published. She is truly a good sport and a wonderful person. Yep, I'm flunking too.

- DEAR JOHN -

The various syndicated papers have their Dear Abbey, Dear Anne Landers. Basically, these are for the female members of our society. What about the poor group of broken hearted boys and love-sick men? Here is the answer to their problem—Dear John.

Dear John,

I started going with my girl friend two years ago, and we get along fine except for one thing. Kathy is better at everything than I am. She beats me in basketball, swimming, tennis, bowling, and everything else. Her father brought her up more like a boy than a girl. I feel so unnecessary. No matter what I can do, Kathy can do it better.

Hap

Dear Hap,

If she wants to be the man in the family, maybe you can be the mother. Try mothering her.

John

Dear John,

A boy I go to school with was a close friend. He's been dating (and I'm sure living with) a secretary of our school. When the romance started, he told me a lot about her; but lately he's become very quiet. He used to say hi; now he just turns and goes the other way. The secretary gives me cold looks everytime I walk past the office. Up to now, I haven't told anybody. But the situation is beginning to hurt. What should I do?

Don

Dear Don,

Go find yourself a secretary, and start your own scandal.

Dear John,

I am madly in love with about ten different girls. That's not my problem, though. The problem is I can't get to see them all in one day. What's worse, is if two of them are in a room at the same time I can't keep my stories straight. I'm telling Moo how much I love Judy, and Jane, how much I love Jean. My face is becoming potted with fingernail scratches. My mind is running ragged. What can I do? They're thinking of throwing me out of the dorm.

O'Leo

Dear Cheap Spread,

First, go to a plastic surgeon and have your pots filled; then, join the Mormons. (How did you get in the dorm anyway?)

Awaiting your answer,

John

BOARD CLOSES ROOM

On October 4, 1962, at 6:45 p.m., a regular meeting of the Corning Community College Student Association Board of Directors was called to order by the President, Larry Allison. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer reported that since the previous meeting $25 each was given to the Circle K Club and B.T.W.A., leaving a balance in the treasury of $415.

Pat O'Leary reported that for the hayride we can get six wagons from Dalrymples in Horseheads.

The first order of old business was the rehabilitation of the clubs on campus. Sandy Allison was appointed chairman of a committee to study this rehabilitation program.

The "founding brothers" of Delta Alpha Mu presented their constitution for the approval of the Board. Joan Kiehle made the motion that we accept this constitution. Eva Mae Williams seconded the motion. The motion was passed by a vote of seven in favor and two abstentions.

Under new business, Doug Simpson made the motion that there be no loitering or card playing in all the dining areas in the Student Center between the hours of 11:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. Ernie Lusky seconded the motion. This was passed by a vote of 8 in favor and 1 abstention.

Doug Simpson made the motion that there be a member of the House and Grounds Committee appointed program co-ordinator for the Student Activities Room and that this room be closed except for club meetings and work pertaining to student government. Ernie Lusky seconded this motion. The motion was passed by a vote of five in favor and four opposed.

Joan Kiehle made the motion that freshmen running for the Board must make speeches on Thursday, October 11. Craig Whitman seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Judy O'Leary made the motion that the Standards Committee take care of the Constitution revision. Doug Simpson seconded the motion which passed by a vote of eight in favor and one opposed.

Eva Mae Williams made the motion that a Dorm-Fraternity Committee be formed to study the relationship of these organizations to the school and to the student government. Joan Kiehle seconded the motion, which passed unanimously.

Doug Simpson made the motion that the Board confirm the installation of Ernie Lusky as chairman of the Standards Committee and Eva Mae Williams as chairman of the House and Grounds Committee, thereby allowing them to retain a vote on the Board. Judy O'Leary seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Ernie Lusky made the motion that Board meetings be held every other Tuesday evening at 7:00 p.m., starting October 16. Joan Kiehle seconded the motion. This motion passed by a vote of seven in favor and two abstentions.

The meeting adjourned at 8:30 p.m.

Board members present were Larry Allison, Craig Whitman, Whitman, Joan Kiehle, Pat O'Leary, Ernie Lusky, Eva Mae Williams, and John Hillman.

Other student in attendance Rosalie Kniffin, Bob Snodgrass, Dick Trader, Tom Petrick, Bob Cheesman, Sue Draper, Mike Robinson, Henry Gridley, and Tom Reagan.

THE NURSES

Should any of you be hospitalized for illness in the Corning Hospital and suddenly find one of your fellow students from C.C.C. caring for you, it will be one of our new nursing students.

For the un-informed, allow us to tell you something about their program. Their leaders consist of Miss Roupp, Mr. Novatnak and the newest faculty member, Miss Bryan. The future nurses will be in Corning for the next two years with nursing as their major; science math and English will serve as a background. Completion of this program leads to the award of the degree of Associate in Applied Science. Also, it qualifies them to take the State Board Examination in Nursing. With achievement in these examinations, they will receive legal status as registered nurses.

Labs and lectures were held in the loft for the first few weeks. Perhaps you have heard, "We did not have to buy a text for this course—we're writing our own." There has been a lot of writing accomplished and also learning. Before their lesson on "how to take a pulse", they learned some background material in relationship to legal aspects and the history of nursing.

Their lectures are still held in the loft, but 6 hours of lab each week are held at Corning Hospital on First Street. Here they have been made to feel very welcome by all of the personnel. (Orientation to the patients hasn't taken place yet.)

So while you still have time for an accident or illness and they still have time to learn the tradition of the "Lady with the Lamp" please remain just "future patients."

Zeus Speaks Sports

by Zeus

Hi there! I'd like to introduce my column starting in this issue and appearing in all preceding issues. It will contain a review and preview of sports on and off campus.

I would like to start off by thanking the Corning Country Club, Pro Charlie Keating and President Dockerty for letting the Baron's golf team use their golf course for practice as well as home games. Thus far, Jim Corbett (Capt.), John Murray, Dick Daus, John Cuthbert and Melvin COW-ZNOZSKI have played the links with some pretty good scores coming in.

Question: When is someone going to start a Hearts team. It seems to me that Tim Wheeland, Tom Greblewski, Jumbo Fernan, Peanuts Hanrahan, Walt Grace, Bob Cheesmen, and Spooker Christifaro would make a good starting seven.

CSVRSFBG coming in February. A new card game "Buck Euchre" has replaced Colonel Bleek as the morning waker upper . . . And finally my poem to Giant Mourners:

The Yankees! won as you know,
But the Giants put on a real good show.
But don't forget the next few years
The Giants may draw some Yankee tears!!!

Just Missed!

Baron Booters Bow To Auburn 4-3

The Corning Community College Soccer Club season came to an end Saturday, October 13 at Auburn by bowing to the Auburn Club 4-3 in a double overtime.

The Baron's led 2-1 after the first period as a result of two goals by Jerry Prudent of Campbell.

After Auburn evened matters, the Baron's George Blampied scored to put the Baron's in the lead 3-2.

Auburn tied the game midway in the final period and won it in the double overtime.

Corning concluded its controlled scrimmage season with a 1-4 record. Their lone victory was 4-3 decision over Broome Tech. Despite their losing season, credit should be given to the Baron's for the fine show and good sportsmanship which they showed during the season. The valuable experience they gained will help the Baron's next season. Credit should also be given to Coach Roy Farr for a fine coaching job.

Ye Questioning Quill

by Bud Williams

Is the fraternity so insecure that with the loss of one or two it cannot go on? I feel that the fraternity should be strong and not dependent on a select few. The fraternity was a good idea and should be carried on even though its president is unable to hold office. A president should set aside his personal feelings if they interfere with the betterment of the college. The other officers of the fraternity should have thought about the effect ONE or TWO persons have on the success of the organization. The fraternity was a test for other clubs and organizations. Its members should consider the fact that they may have set goals for other clubs. They are the hope of all future organizations of this college. Should they GIVE UP without a fight?

The Commuting Problem

by Eva Mae Williams

"Father, Father the car won't start and it is already 7:15," I hollered as I came running into the house not long ago. This is very typical at my home and at many other homes during the school year. Commuting can be a problem.

There are many of you that do not realize how fortunate you are. If you have an 8:00 a.m., you can arise at 7:30. However, if we who do not live in Corning have an 8:00 a.m. class, quite often it is necessary that we get up at 6:00. "Oh, how wonderful it would be to be able to sleep until 7:30 some morning."

Then too, you do not have a problem with cars. If some thing does go wrong with your car, it is usually just a few minutes walk to school or a taxi cab is not too expensive. Can you imagine one of us who does not reside in Corning walking to and from school? (Taxi cabs are pretty expensive to ride in for 50 miles and there are not many buses where I live.)

It is not always the problem of the car not starting in the morning. There are a lot of other little things that can happen — for instance — a flat tire. Last year when I was on my way home after a final exam in an evening course, I had a flat tire before I even got out of Corning. After I found someone (a male of course) to fix this tire, I set out for home once more. I had not gone very far when I had a blowout. Of course, like everyone else, I had only one spare tire. When I finally got someone to take me home, it was 2:00 a.m. This was one of the biggest problems I had ever had, since I had my Structure of Math final the next day.

One of the things that bothers me most about commuting is the time that it takes. Those coming from Elmira, probably average an hour per day on the road at least.

Euchre Anyone?

There are others who spend one and a half to two hours per day on the road. This can really be a nuisance. All of the time that one could have used for pleasure or for a little extra studying is spent in an automobile. A rider can study a little sometimes, if the others are not too noisy, but the poor driver can not because he must keep his eyes on the road all the time.

Many instructors give assignments that must be read in library reference books. The Corning residents have the advantage of a library close at hand. However, if one wishes to stay after school to do his assignment, the library closes up at 5:00 p.m., which probably leaves the commuter with no place to go and no ride home.

Soon that awful weather will be coming again. Snow-covered roads do not offer especially safe traveling, but it seems to me that the ones who miss school the most on these bad days are those who live closest to the school. They are afraid to walk on snow-covered sidewalks!

Oh, well! I suppose we all have our problems. If I were to advise anyone that was just entering C.C.C. I would tell them to move to Corning. It would be so much easier and college life would be so much more enjoyable. I think it will be wonderful when Corning Community College gets more dorms, so practically everyone can live near the campus.
