Home games in BOLD CAPS
* Big South Conference game
Despite high expectations entering the 2011 season, the Stony Brook football team fell to 0-3 when it lost at home to Brown, 21-20. But when coach Chuck Priore delivered his postgame speech to the team in the end zone, he didn’t seem frustrated. “We’re better than this,” he said, and we’re going to be better than this.”

It was up to the players how they wanted to respond --- and what followed could only be described as special. A 17-point win over Lafayette ignited a nine-game winning streak during which Stony Brook made Big South Conference history, scoring more than 40 points in seven straight games. A 41-31 win over Liberty in the regular-season finale gave the Seawolves an undefeated conference season and an automatic bid to the Division I Football Championship.

Hosting Albany in a first round game, Stony Brook faced an 18-point deficit, its biggest since being down 28 in the third quarter at Buffalo. But the Seawolves scored three unanswered touchdowns and recorded a game-saving interception in the end zone to preserve a three-point win. Stony Brook then lost by seven points at No. 1 Sam Houston State, which eventually reached the national championship game, ending the Seawolves’ greatest season since joining Division I in 1999.

Now Priore must replace two All-Americans, running back Brock Jackolski and left guard Joe Faiella, and three starters on the defensive line among 12 graduating seniors.

OFFENSE

It will be hard to top last year’s offensive output, but 2012 could be record breaking. Senior quarterback KYLE ESSINGTON, who started 2011 as the back-up, is the unquestioned signal-caller in 2012. Priore’s game plan called for Essington to be under center in certain situations, but the Southern California native was forced into a starter’s role after incumbent Michael Coulter’s knee injury became too painful to play with. Essington’s brilliance started against Presbyterian on October 8 as he threw for 292 yards and four touchdowns and rushed for another in a 42-24 win. As the starting quarterback, Essington led the team to a 9-1 record, accounting for more than 1,800 yards and 22 touchdowns, including three on the ground. The second team All-Big South selection should continue his excellence as one of the nation’s premier quarterbacks.

Backing up Essington will be redshirt junior LYLE NEGRON. A native of Bakersfield, California, Negron spent last season learning the system. As a sophomore at Bakersfield College, he passed for 1,950 yards and 17 touchdowns and rushed for 400 yards and eight scores. Negron’s strong and accurate arm and ability to scramble could allow him to spell Essington in certain situations.

When Priore took over as head coach, his ground game went from 1,333 to 2,522 yards in just two years, and in 2011, Stony Brook rushed for 3,475 yards, averaging more than 267 yards per game. That mark ranked fourth behind Wofford, Georgia Southern and the Citadel --- three schools whose primary offense is some form of the wish-bone and/or option offense.

After a record-setting 2011, could the running game be even greater?

Senior MIGUEL MAYSONET, a candidate for the Walter Payton Award, given to the Most Outstanding Player in FCS, returns as one of the top running backs in the nation. The Big South Offensive Player of the Year, Maysonet rushed for 1,633 yards, a school and conference record, and 15 touchdowns. He scored four touchdowns twice, a conference record, and rushed for more than 100 yards in eight games. Maysonet garnered All-America honors from the Sports Network/Fathead.com and Phil Steele’s College Football Review.

Since Stony Brook joined the Division I ranks in 1999, a running back tandem rushed for 100 yards each in a game 13 times. During the past two years, Maysonet and Jackolski accomplished the feat seven times. With the graduation of Jackolski, a player whose contributions are second to none in Stony Brook history, Priore had some big cleats to fill.

Enter MARCUS COKER. A junior from Beltsville, Md., Coker joins Stony Brook after two seasons at the University of Iowa. A four-star recruit out of DeMatha Catholic High School, Coker rushed for more than 2,000 yards and 18 touchdowns with the Hawkeyes. Coker was listed as Iowa’s fourth-string running back as a freshman, but moved into a starting role at the tail end of the season, making the most of the opportunity. In the Insight Bowl against No. 12 Missouri, Coker rushed for 219 yards on 33 records and two touchdowns, earning Offensive MVP honors. The 219 yards broke a 51-year-old Iowa bowl record. With a running style comparable to former Iowa star and current New York Jet Shonn Greene, Coker entered ’11 as a candidate for the Maxwell Award, given to the best player in college football. As a sophomore, Coker finished with 1,384 yards, second to Heisman Trophy runner-up Montee Ball of Wisconsin, and 15 touchdowns.

As good as the Maysonet-Jackolski duo was, the Maysonet-Coker combination has the potential to be explosive. Included in the corps of running backs is sophomore DAVON LAWRENCE. As the third-string back, Lawrence rushed for 94 yards and a touchdown.

The wide receiver position, a unit Priore calls “talented, deep and explosive”, features experience, starting with seniors JORDAN GUSH and KEVIN NORRELL.

A three-year starter, Gush recorded career-highs in receptions (41) and yards (541). He’s tied for third in school history in the Division I era with 15 touchdowns and is a solid threat to make a big play.

Norrell, who got off to a slow start, emerged as Stony Brook’s big-play threat at the end of the season. Norrell led all receivers with 673, totaling 350 in the last four games, including 129- and 114-yard efforts, and will team with Gush to form one of the more formidable duos in the Big South.

Also figuring into the mix will be junior MYLES CAMPBELL. Campbell, a speedster, is healthy after a hamstring injury derailed his season.

The graduation of Matt Brevi, a dependable possession receiver, forced the staff to find a suitable replacement. Sophomore ADRIAN COXSON, a transfer from the University of Maryland, could be the team’s most explosive receiver. ESPNU’s No. 16 receiver, Coxson originally attended Florida, but transferred home to play for the Terps. In his one season in College Park, Coxson played sparingly, but he did catch three passes for 78 yards and a touchdown against Boston College. Coxson’s solid frame and burst will be utilized all over of the field.

Also seeing time at the wide receiver position will be CHRIS McMILLAN. The tall and rangy wide receiver has seen limited action during his time at Stony Brook.

DEVANTE WHEELER, a converted cornerback, could also see time.

On the offensive line last year, four underclassmen --- SCOTT HERNANDEZ, MIKE LISI, CODY PRECHT and MICHAEL BAMIRO --- combined to make all but two starts last season. The two tackles, Hernandez on the left side and Bamiro on the right side, are juniors who will continue to get better. STEVEN WATTS will back-up Hernandez and ELI MARTINEZ will play behind Bamiro. To the right of Hernandez, FERNANDO DIAZ, JOE DANAKER and ERIC MAULER will compete to replace Joe Faiella at left guard.

Transfer from the University of Pittsburgh, Diaz saw limited time, but his potential is evident. To the left of Bamiro is Precht, a sophomore started 12 of 13 games last season and helped Stony Brook rush for more than 267 yards per game. Lisi emerged as one of the surprises in the preseason last season and ran with it. The only true freshman to play for the Seawolves last season, Lisi looks like he'll follow the legacy of Paul Fenaroli. Precht will back-up Lisi when need be.

Fullback and tight end, positions that Priore describes as integral, will be manned by upperclassmen.

C\H:\R\E\S: F\E\N\E\L\O\N and M\A\T\T\T\H\H\A\I\E\L\L\A provided holes for Jackolski and Maysonet to run through, and time for Essington to find receivers. Fenelon and Faiella are seasoned players who fit Priore’s system well.

B\R\E\T\T\T\T\A\R\C\E emerged not only as a capable blocker, but a dependable receiver in certain situations. Sophomore T\A\N\N\N\N\H\H\L\S and senior D\A\V\I\I\D\N\H\U\K\R\I also will see time, primarily in run-blocking schemes.

DEFENSE

One of the biggest concerns on the defensive side will be its youth. Priore is quick to note that a number of first-year players will be asked to contribute.

On the interior of the defensive line, the group will be headlined by co-captain J\O\N\A\T\H\A\N\T\H\A\C\A\O\T\S. Coats was a disruptive inside force in his redshirt junior season, starting all 13 games and posting 27 tackles. He recorded two forced fumbles, including one he returned for a touchdown in the season opener that stunned a crowd of more than 27,000 at the Sun Bowl against UTEP. Coats’ motor and ability to go hard on every play will motivate the younger guys. Sophomore K\E\V\I\N\H\H\A\U\T\E\R, who moves from the outside, also played in 11 games last season.

Junior college transfer D\I\M\E\T\R\I\U\S\S\S\ \B\E\R\N\A\R\D, a native of Queens who attended Holy Cross High School, will add experience. Bernard finished with 17 tackles for Fresno City College as a sophomore. Redshirt freshman D\A\N\T\E\S\ \A\L\L\E\N will compete for time inside.

Outside, J\U\N\I\O\R\ \S\O\L\I\C\E, who played in 11 games last season, is one of the team’s top pass rushers. Stony Brook’s team leader in tackles for loss, Solice will be counted on as a disruption. Two-year contributor A\N\D\R\E\S\T\R\U\D\J\I\L\L\ has moved from linebacker to the defensive line this season. He made nine starts last season, contributing 40 tackles, two sacks, and a forced fumble.

A second Queens product, L\E\S\T\O\N\ \S\I\M\P\I\N\S, is an intriguing transfer. Simpson, who attended Lackawanna Junior College and Minnesota, adds FBS experience. He appeared in all 12 games for the Golden Gophers in 2010, but missed most of last season with an injury. Bernard and Simpson will have two years of eligibility.

Priore is excited about the development and progress of V\I\C\T\O\R\ \O\C\H\I\ and D\I\M\I\T\R\Y\ \R\U\S\S, two redshirts who played well on the scout team and throughout spring practice.

One of the strengths of the defense lies at the inside linebacker position. The group is led by J\A\W\A\R\A\ \D\U\D\L\Y\L, one of three sophomores to earn first team All-Big South honors. He finished with 71 tackles, including a team-high 4.5 sacks. Dudley has started 20 straight games, becoming one of the best linebackers in the conference. Junior R\E\G\I\N\A\L\D\ \F\R\A\N\C\K\- \L\I\N played in all 13 games, finishing third on the team with 52 tackles. He added 6.5 tackles for loss and a forced fumble. The third junior is G\R\A\N\T\ \N\A\K\W\A\A\H\A. Nakwaasah moves from the rover position he played for the last two seasons. He finished fourth with 64 tackles. Priore describes the three as “very athletic and physical players who fit our defensive scheme.”

Redshirt freshman J\U\L\I\A\N\ \Q\U\N\T\I\N and juniors C\A\S\E\Y\ \C\A\L\L\A\H\A\N and A\D\A\M \N\O\W\A\K add depth.

The rover position will be led by a player who was all over the field in 2011. D\A\N\ \M\U\L\R\O\O\O\N\E\Y, a transfer from Boston College, led the team in tackles (75) and fumble recoveries (3) and tied for first in forced fumbles (2). Special teams standouts C\R\I\S\T\I\A\N\ \R\I\C\A\R\D and R\I\C\H \V\I\T\A\L\E will back-up Mulrooney.

Former Hofstra standout G\R\E\G\ \M\E\L\E\N\D\E\Z will join the Seawolves for his final year of eligibility. The Brooklyn native started two years for the Pride and transferred to Idaho State, where he spent two years but only played one due to an injury. His size and experience will be important cogs in the secondary.
The free safety position will be manned by three-year starter DOMINICK REYES. A second-team all-conference selection, Reyes finished third on the team with 68 tackles. He added two forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries. His only interception came at the most opportune time: His INT in the end zone stopped a potential go-ahead drive by Albany in the fourth quarter of Stony Brook's first playoff game last season.

Redshirt freshman NAIM CHEESEBORO also will see time. He led all players with nine tackles in the spring game and has the size and speed to play the position effectively.

Junior VINCENT POLO, who moved from running back to safety during the preseason a year ago, will see the field in certain packages. Junior TAJ JOHNSON adds depth.

The cornerback position will have a different look with the graduation of D.J. Porter and Al-Majid Hutchins. Transfers and redshirt freshmen will have every opportunity to play this season.

Senior CEDRICK MOORE missed 2011 with an injury, but finished fifth on the team in tackles (39) and second in interceptions (3) in 2010. All three of his interceptions came in one game at Brown. He provides experience to a position hit hard by graduation.

A pair of redshirts -- WINSTON LONGDON and JAMIE WILLIAMS -- will back up Moore at one corner position. Longdon, a transfer from Nassau Community College, made 12 tackles as a sophomore for the Lions. Williams, a two-star recruit by Rivals and ESPN.com, was a prep standout in New Jersey.

Junior DAVONTE ANDERSON will man the other corner position. The Southern California native is one of Stony Brook's all-time leaders in interceptions at the Division I level (6). Anderson has seen action in all 24 games over the last two years.

One of the team needs in the offseason was to add experience in the secondary, and Priore landed an FBS transfer, landing University of Maryland cornerback AVERY GRAHAM. One of the top-ranked cornerbacks by Rivals.com, Graham played in 13 games over the last two years, totaling 17 tackles. Graham also saw time as a kick returner.

Redshirt junior IVAN MAY missed all of last season with an injury, but brings impressive credentials, having led Grossmont College with 12 pass breakups as a sophomore. Fellow Southern California native LOUIS MURRAY gained valuable experience redshirting 2011.

SPECIAL TEAMS

WESLEY SKIFFINGTON, the all-time leading kicker in school history with 229 points, is the third active leading scorer in FCS entering 2012. He went 60-for-62 on PATs and 11-for-15 on field goals last season. Skiffington, a senior, will compete for time kicking-off with incoming junior college transfer GRAHAM BALL. The lefty has a strong leg with a soccer background. Ball has the ability to consistently put his kickoffs through the end zone.

Skiffington also will compete with junior LUKE ALLEN for the punting job. Skiffington punted 22 times for 787 yards (35.8 avg.). Allen averaged 34.7 yards per punt and put seven ball inside the 20, but Skiffington handled the majority of the punts late in the season.

Punt returns will be handled by the sure-handed Gush. Maysonet and Norrell will handle the kick returns.

OUTLOOK

With a non-conference schedule that features three of the first four games at home, seventh-year head coach Priore wants to maintain consistency. The Seawolves have never finished .500 or better under Priore during the non-conference slate. Priore also hopes the team finds its identity earlier in the season. The defense will need to mature early in the season, and a lot of players will have the opportunity to show they are worthy of time.
