Corporate Education & Training at SBU
Global economies require continuous professional education and training. Stony Brook University's Corporate Education and Training Group can be your partner in corporate development. Our programs are offered at the location of your choice: on-site at your company facilities, or at conveniently located training centers on Long Island including SBU's R&D Park.
It could be a tool for Professional Development for individuals on Campus too. They could pay for it individually and submit it as an IDA award (For Next Year July 2014 thru June 2015), or they could have their dept. pay for the workshop cost. Check out the web site submitted by Dawn Pappas
