March Photos

In this issue’s photo gallery, students extend their generosity to veterans, the college offers its hospitality to beleaguered city residents, alumni return to share midcareer wisdom, and men's and women's ice hockey teams give their fans extended seasons, just as baseball players start theirs. If you would like to submit photos of timely activities for future issues, email pictures with a brief caption to proffice@oswego.edu.

Fulbright award to send Harris to Finland
The Fulbright Scholar program has awarded Christopher Harris of the computer science faculty an opportunity to travel to Finland this August for nearly a year, where he plans to explore cross-cultural user experience and user design, as well as a variety of other research and teaching interests in human-computer interaction and business. Read more >

College eases way for Waterbury relocations
A year's worth of planning and communication paid off over winter break, as Residence Life and Housing teamed with a moving company to help about 100 students depart Waterbury Hall and return to new residences around campus. Read more >

SUNY Chancellor’s Awards honor five Oswego students
Five SUNY Oswego seniors active in academics, leadership, community service, campus involvement, arts and career-long achievement will receive the 2015 SUNY Chancellor’s Award for Student Excellence -- the highest student recognition through the statewide university system. Read more >

People in Action

In this issue, read about students speaking out, a distinguished honor, a student's solo exhibition, publications in computer science, a presentation in history and small grants in communication studies, modern languages and risk management. Read more >
Spotlight

Meet Lakeside Dining Center cashier Lois Terminella, who has lent a willing ear and a caring heart to generations of students — in this issue’s Spotlight.

Announcements

• School of Business achieves ‘Best for Vets’ ranking
• Men’s hockey earns sixth straight NCAA tournament bid
• New Ozfest to feature premium contemporary acts
• College’s VITA program named Community Champion
• Presidents ask legislators to ‘step up and invest in SUNY’
• Photographer of Civil Rights Movement to speak
• Police Report

Calendar Highlights

Wednesday, March 11
• Health Care Careers Conference

Thursday, March 12
• Race, Place, Being, poetry and performances

March 13 to April 11
• Art exhibition: "Transitions"

March 16 to 20
• Spring recess

Saturday, March 21
• Rice Creek Story Hour

Monday, March 23
• Global Engagement Hour
• Talk: "Teen Driving and Risky Behaviors"

Tuesday, March 24
• Study Abroad Fair
• Artist talk: Civil rights photographer Matt Herron

Wednesday, March 25
• Performances by trombone quartet Maniacal 4
• German movie: “Zwei Leben”

For more events, see SUNY Oswego Events.