I Hear You Calling Me.

I hear you calling me.
You called me when the moon had veiled her light,
Before I went from you into the night;
I came,—do you remember?—back to you
For one last kiss beneath the kind stars' light.

I hear you calling me.
And oh, the ringing gladness of your voice!
The words that made my longing heart rejoice
You spoke,—do you remember?—and my heart
Still hears the distant music of your voice.

I hear you calling me.
Though years have stretched their weary length between,
And on your grave the mossy grass is green:
I stand,—do you behold me?—listening here,
Hearing your voice through all the years between.

Allegretto

mf molto rit.

I hear you calling me.

You call’d me when the moon had veiled her light,

Before I went from you into the night, I came, do you remember? back to you. For one last kiss beneath the kind stars' light. I hear you calling me. And oh, the ring-ing glad-ness of your voice! The words that made my long-ing heart re-joice You spoke, do you remember? and my heart Still hears the distant music

of your voice.

I hear you calling me. Though years have stretch'd their weary length between, And on your grave the mossy grass is green: I stand, do you behold me? listening here, hearing your voice through all the years between.

I hear you calling me.
