Carillon gift of '84 grads

The pealing chimes of a traditional carillon will be heard by students at the Marcy campus of the College of Technology as a result of the gift of the Class of '84.

"Although the Class of 1984 will not attend classes as undergraduates on the new campus, we are pleased to be able to leave something at the college that will be a lasting gift," said John Rogers, treasurer of the Utica/Rome Student Association. We feel the carillon will really add a special atmosphere to the campus."

In accepting the gift, college president Peter J. Cayan expressed his appreciation: "This gesture by the members of the Class of 1984 will add a dimension to our new home that will be appreciated by students and alumni for many years. Each member of the class should be proud to have aided in the establishment of a tradition."

The carillon, manufactured by Maas-Rowe of Escondido, California, has been temporarily installed at the Court Street campus. When the college is moved to its new quarters the carillon will be placed in an appropriate structure on the 850-acre campus.

Controlled by a microprocessor-based clock, the carillon chimes on the hour and half hour, as well as plays traditional carillon concerts at selected times.

The system, patented by Maas-Rowe, greatly reduces the amount of metal needed to produce a bell. Miniature cast bells are struck by clappers and the sound is amplified electronically. Since the tones are produced by actual bells, the quality sound of large traditional bells results. Fifteen of the small, permanently tuned bells are incorporated in the Chronobell model given by the Class of 1984.

The carillon concerts are produced by recorded cartridges.

Maas-Rowe carillon systems have been installed at the Metropolitan Opera of New York, the U.S. Naval Academy, the U.S. Coast Guard Academy, SUNY at Albany, the Universities of New Hampshire and Vermont, and St. Mary's College.

Alumni Awards—time to decide

The first 10th year awards recognizing alumni for achievement, advancement and community involvement are scheduled to be presented at the 1985 Homecoming.

Five year awards will also give recognition to members of the Classes of 1977, 1978, 1979, and 1980.

Dick DuRose, chairman of the Alumni Association awards committee, is intent upon ensuring that the best possible candidates are identified. To achieve that goal he requests that Officers of the Classes of 1975 and 1977-1980 contact him IMMEDIATELY. His address is RD #1, Vernon, NY 13476.

Dear Alumni:

A persistent dilemma facing our Alumni Association centers on the perceived lack of outbound organizational information/communication to members versus the Association's actual lack of sufficient funds to communicate more effectively. This is no Catch 22 in my view; basically both problems are due to the unrealistic expectation that communication can occur without cost.

It was once thought that alumni membership could be supported financially by a one-time $10 undergraduate fee. This $10 fee is currently expended in less than one year after graduation. Realistically, the $10 should be regarded as an initiation fee only.

The Association charter in no way prevents the college's Alumni Association from establishing levels of membership supported by contributions from those graduates who have already paid the one-time fee. The membership of our Association, taking action at the last two annual meetings, voted to establish three additional membership categories. Alumni are invited to join at one of these three levels:

- One Year - $10
- Three Years - $25
- Life Member - $100

The officers and board members of our SUNY College of Technology Alumni Association are confident that you agree a more realistic dues schedule will benefit members as well as the organization itself. We ask that you join one of the three new memberships, thereby supporting expanded activities of our Alumni Association.

Sincerely,

Reina Judge
President

PSI CHI chartered

Fourteen students and alumni of the College of Technology have been inducted into the newly-formed campus chapter of Psi Chi, the national psychology honor society.

Dr. Rosemary Mullic, associate professor of psychology and a member of Psi Chi, presented the charter to Dr. Marjorie Lavine, assistant professor of psychology, local advisor; Bruce Young, president, and Catherine Dukat, vice president.

Dr. Mullic initiated students, Young of Frankfort; Dukat of Clay, and Barbara Matteson of Miller's Mills. College of Technology alumni initiated are Patricia Bowen, Joseph G. Grzywacz, Gloria S. Murphy, Rosemary Britnell, and Jean M. Stanton, all of Utica; Regina S. Fuller and Nuala C. Sheen, both of Rome; Helen M. Beath, Marcy; Shukamala K. Kozikoda and Nancy K. Zappone, both of New Hartford; and Rita Louise Notzh of Lyons Falls.

Psi Chi is an affiliate of the American Psychological Association and a member of the Association of College Honor Societies.

First master's program approved

The College of Technology at Utica/Rome has been authorized to award its first master's degree. The graduate computer and information science program was approved by the State Board of Regents in late April.

Regent E. Emlyn Griffith of Rome said the program would start as soon as Governor Mario M. Cuomo consents with the board's decision.

Griffith called the regents' action a "breakthrough" for the college. "It paves the way for graduate programs in computer science, technology and business and public management.

A graduate program, Griffith said, "receives regents sanction only when the undergraduate program in that field is well regarded. It is significant that SUNY College of Technology now has authorization to award a master's degree in computer and information science only four years after receiving approval for the bachelor's degree."

The 33-credit-hour program would require a comprehensive examination or master's thesis. Enrollment projections are 10 full-time and 50 part-time students beginning this fall, and 20 full-time and 70 part-time by the fall of 1986.

Griffith said that there was a "proven need in the area for programs for part-time students employed in local industries, a special need for Rome Air Development Center and other organizations at Griffiss Air Force Base."

He cited state Department of Labor predictions that by next year 539 computer specialists will be needed in the upper Mohawk Valley region and 4,632 such persons statewide.

"Over a three-year period, employment is projected to increase by 6.6 percent for computer specialists, as compared with the 4.1 percent for all other workers," Griffith said.

PRESS CONFERENCE—Loretta Johnson of WBXB interviewed Regent E. Emlyn L. Griffith and President Peter J. Cayan during an April press conference at which Griffith announced approval of the college's program in computer science.

Griffith said there was no opposition to the degree program on the part of other colleges in upstate New York that might be affected.

The College of Technology, the regent said, "has really, in a relatively short time, established a reputation for excellence in this field and that authorization to award a master's degree is further evidence of the college's merit."

Former professor heads prison

Martin F. town, formerly an assistant professor of criminal justice at the college, has recently been named superintendent of the Hudson Correctional Facility.

Born was at the college from 1975 to 1977 and served as the chairperson of the College Assembly (which evolved into the Faculty Assembly). He also organized the first Law Day in 1975 and developed some of the first correctional courses in the criminal justice program.

Horn left the college to become the director of the newly formed temporary release program of the New York State Department of Correctional Services. He was most recently the assistant commissioner for correctional services.

Before coming to the college, Horn was a state parole officer in New York City.

He is a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College and John Jay College of Criminal Justice.
Limelight on SUNY alumni in 1985

SUNY alumni, 1985 is going to be YOUR year! In the spring of 1985, one of the hallmark events of the State University of New York will graduate a student who will become the one-millionth living SUNY alumnus or alumna. A year-long celebration is being planned to mark this historical event for SUNY and the State of New York.

At this date, plans are still tentative but the celebration will focus on YOU, the SUNY graduate—your past, present and future contributions to society in general and New York State in particular.

The theme of the celebration will be "The Year of the One-Millionth SUNY Graduate," although no one person will be designated as that graduate. Not only would identifying one graduate as the one-millionth be virtually impossible, but no one student could adequately represent the many different kinds of people who have received SUNY degrees—male, female, black, white, Hispanic, etc.

American Indian, young, old, low-income, high-income, physically handicapped, etc. The one campus and program would also not tell the whole story of the SUNY system and the variety of programs it offers.

It is proposed that the one-millionth graduate be symbolic, with each SUNY campus identifying its 1985 graduation as "The Commencement of the One-Millionth SUNY Graduate.”

Individual campuses are invited to initiate their own activities throughout the year or follow tentative suggestions for a University-wide celebration.

The proposed schedule begins the year with a proclamation by the governor declaring 1985 as "The Year of the Millionth SUNY Graduate," and concludes in October with a week of campus activities open to the community.

The College of Technology Alumni Association was the first to endorse the proposed "Campaign '85," a campus-driven $1 million campaign to increase alumni giving and an Alumni Confederation-driven campaign to raise matching funds and challenge grants from non-alumni sources. Before this plan is implemented, it must be approved by the SUNY Board of Trustees and the Chancellor.

Other activities under consideration are a representation at the New York State Fair, a joint Legislative session to honor SUNY and its alumni, a publication of a brochure about SUNY alumni, exhibits in campus communities, Empire State Plaza and New York City, and a series of state-wide dinners honoring graduates.

Dr. Edward J. Sabol retires July 1

Dr. Edward J. Sabol will retire as Dean of Health Sciences and Allied Services at the College of Technology on July 1.

Three times a college president, Dr. Sabol served at SUNY Agricultural and Technical College at Cobleskill from 1961 to 1966; Sauk Valley Community College at Dixon, Illinois, from 1966 to 1972; and at DeVry Institute of Technology in Chicago, from 1972 to 1974. While at DeVry, he also held the position of director of resident school operations, Bell and Howell Schools, Chicago.

Because of his broad academic and administrative experience, he was chosen, in 1974, as dean of public services when the College of Technology was created. Since that time, his responsibilities were broadened to include the administration of the health science programs in health services management, nursing, and medical record administration.

Dr. Sabol began his academic career as a high school English and business education teacher in Ticonderoga and Lybourn school systems in 1937. After serving during World War II in the Navy, he became the registrar and assistant to the academic dean of Sampson College. He then was appointed coordinator of field services and director of admissions for SUNY at Albany. In 1954, he led the expansion of the Statewide Admissions Examination Program for all the colleges within the SUNY system. From 1958 to 1961, he was the first dean of the Junior College of Albany, a division of Russell Sage College.

Dr. Sabol is the current president of the Northeastern Association of Criminal Justice Educators. He has previously served as president of the Illinois Association of Criminal Justice Educators and the Illinois Junior College Administrators Association, chairman of the Illinois Conference on Higher Education and chairman of the New York State Apprenticeship Council.

Dr. Sabol has served on the boards of directors of numerous professional and community service organizations.

IEEE names Vize top advisor

James Vize, associate professor of electrical engineering technology, has received the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE) Outstanding Branch Counseling/Advisor Award of 1984.

Only 10 of the awards, recognizing excellent performance, are made annually to the more than 600 counselors and advisors worldwide.

Vize, who has been at the College of Technology for five years, organized Student Chapter #2091 in 1981. Currently 70 students are chapter members.

Announcing the award, Forrest L. Staffanson, chairman of the IEEE student activities committee, wrote, "We know from experience that the continuous success of a Branch is a direct reflection on the leadership provided by its Counselor/Advisor and the support of the school."

Need transcripts?

As College of Technology alumni move along their career paths, they may require official transcripts sent to perspective employers. The Registrar's Office reminds all alumni of the correct steps to avoid any delay in the delivery. Requests should be sent to: Registrar's Office, SUNY College of Technology, 881 Court Street, Utica, NY 13502. A fee of $3.00 for each transcript should be included with the request.

If payment is not enclosed, billing at $4.00 each, is made and the request held until payment is received.
Honor Society inducts

The State University of New York College of Technology Nursing Honor Society inducted 56 students, faculty, and alumni at ceremonies in May. Cecilia Mulvey, president of the New York State Nursing Society was the guest speaker.

Dear Alumni,

Greetings to all our alumni, but especially to those of you who have just joined the ranks of graduates from the College of Technology. Congratulations on your achievement.

Your Alumni Association is on a roll. Our experiment with moving Homecoming to the spring from the the fall has passed its first major test. On May 4 and 5, between 59 and 60 alumni returned to campus to participate in one or more of the many activities of the weekend. Since this was the second alumni weekend of the academic year, we attempted to keep costs low and programming modest. Many of those who attended reported favorably upon the event. In addition, about 60 nursing program alumni returned to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the program's founding.

One of the highlights was the alumni/faculty mixer on Friday evening, which sported an excellent turnout of faculty, alumni, and administration in an informal atmosphere in the college pub. It was a great way to start off the weekend.

Perhaps the biggest disappointment of weekend planning was expressed by Dick DuRose, chairman of the alumni awards committee. Dick reported that despite two mailings to members of the Classes of '77, '78, and '79 he was unable to come up with an adequate number of nominations for people to receive distinguished service awards. Dick is already seeking input for next year's awards.

The new dues schedule voted on in the fall was confirmed at the meeting, and in June the Board of Directors ratified the schedule described elsewhere in this newsletter.

The next Homecoming Weekend will be May 3 and 4, 1985, and committee chairman, Glen Thompson, promised to get the planning going early in the fall. I'm sure Glen will be happy to receive any suggestions regarding the program.

Be sure to check elsewhere in the newsletter for information regarding formation of regional chapters of our Alumni Association. This is a new venture, but with 5600 alumni scattered throughout the State of New York, it's high time we began to organize the same way most other institutions do. It really is important for you to support your regional chapter, so when you're contacted, please respond.

I am really very enthusiastic about the alumni leadership we now have and the prospects of breathing more and more life into our organization. Toward that end I am always available to those of you who have suggestions or questions. The staff in the college relations and development office (the governmental affairs office which many of you used to know has been disestablished) are always ready and willing to respond to your communications.

In addition to Fran Connors, whom most of you know, the team consists of Lillian Leffert, director of publications; Sue Ulrich, director of media relations; Mark Atchison, director of development; Dawn Ferry, secretary, and me. Our telephone number is (315) 792-3301 or 3305. Call us at any time with questions, concerns, or suggestions.

SWE unites women engineers

The Society of Women Engineers student chapter at the College of Technology was chartered in April.

The national service organization is dedicated to making known the need for women engineers and encouraging young women to consider an engineering education. Specific objectives are to assist and encourage women engineers and to serve as a center of information on women in engineering.

The quest to form an official student SWE chapter began in 1981 at the college with assistance by Dr. Louis Galiati, dean of engineering technology, and Atlas Hsieh, associate professor of industrial engineering technology. Mrs. Lillian Millman, assistant to the dean of the L.C. Smith College of Engineering at Syracuse University, also provided support and invited the women to become associate members of the Syracuse Chapter.

Original members were Cheryl Knight, the first president; Diana George, second president; Kelley Shuman, first secretary; Wendy Bisbo, first treasurer; Claire Cummimgham, and Laurie Nicholson. The first advisors were Hase, Voisilau Landscape, Mohamed Rezq and Robert Zeeh, all faculty members.

Criteria for recommendations and other specific information will be provided by DuRose.

DuRose said that five awards were last made to members of the Class of '76. Because of lack of nominations, no further recognition has been given.

Help regional chapters

Now that the College of Technology has passed its 10th year of existence, the number of graduates is sufficient to warrant regional chapters of the Alumni Association.

Two alumni have volunteered to oversee the establishment of chapters in Syracuse and Binghamton. The task of organizing a new group will take much time and dedication. Additional offers of assistance would be appreciated by these alumni and the end result will benefit all College of Technology graduates.

Whether you can spare hours to pour into the effort or only a few minutes to make some telephone calls, please contact the men.

Dan Nolan is working on the Syracuse Chapter. He may be contacted at 106 Fieldcrest Drive, Camillus, NY 13031, or call (315) 488-3873. If he is not at home, his answering machine will take the call.

The first edition of the spring Alumni Homecoming was held May 4 and 5 - the same weekend as the 10th anniversary celebration of the college's nursing program and the student's Spring Weekend.

The multiple scheduling allowed interaction between alumni and students with favorable comments from both groups.

Approximately 44 of the 60 alumni registered for Homecoming, joined undergraduates at Saturday's Spring Picnic at the Mayfair Restaurant.

The Nursing Honor Society installed its third class on Sunday and the program's establishment was marked with a reception at the Sheraton Inn and Conference Center on Saturday evening.
