Spring Photos

In this issue's photo gallery, near-spring blooms with job-searching students, alumni imparting career wisdom, award-winning skaters, a heartfelt illuminated tribute to the college, fascination with a space-time discovery, and a historic run for the men's basketball team. If you would like to submit photos of timely activities for future issues, email pictures with a brief caption to proffice@oswego.edu.

CARE maps alternative routes to diplomas
An alternative learning program based in the School of Education's Wilber Hall helps struggling and disengaged Oswego County high school students. Read more >

Oswego's University Police earns accreditation
University Police at SUNY Oswego attained state accreditation last week, an achievement that marks the department as one of only 10 in the State University system and fewer than 150 police agencies of all kinds statewide to attain this stamp of excellence.
Read more >

Men's basketball makes Sweet 16, hosts tourney
After two thrilling NCAA Division III tournament wins to reach the program's first-ever Sweet 16, the Laker men's basketball team will host tournament action Friday and Saturday in Laker Hall.
Read more >

SUNY Chancellor's Awards honor three Oswego students
Three outstanding Oswego students in the sciences will receive the 2016 SUNY Chancellor's Award for Student Excellence — the highest student recognition through the statewide university system. Read more >

People in Action

In this issue, read about a senior's acceptance into a Harvard summer program, an education professor's upcoming presentation at Oxford University, national conference presentations in forensic sciences, and more activities and achievements by students and faculty in the arts, broadcasting, physics and zoology.
Read more >

Calendar Highlights

Wednesday, March 9
Sportsmanship book gathers expertise
Sociology professor Tim Delaney, founder of the college's annual observance of National Sportsmanship Day, has filled what he saw as a large gap in the literature of sports studies, editing a new cross-disciplinary book on sportsmanship. Read more >

Video: Class studies permaculture in Benin
Students taking "Benin: Permaculture and Global Education" traveled to the West African nation to learn about sustainable permaculture and schools. Watch now >

Spotlight
Meet Cindy DeWolf, who loves staying busy and being part of Facilities Maintenance and Operations' on-the-go team — in this issue's Spotlight.

Announcements
• ‘Live documentary’ on Fuller features indie band

• Police Report

For more events, see SUNY Oswego Events.

Resources
Research News
Artswego
Athletics
Student Blogs
Recent Milestones
Faculty Assembly
Employment Opportunities
Campus Update Archives
SUNY Oswego Home Page

Action Items
Submit news
RSS news feeds
Subscribe

Follow SUNY Oswego

Privacy Policy