SHOULD YOUTH PREPARE ?

The youth of today complain that preceding generations created the economic conditions that now prevail throughout the world. Irregardless of who is responsible, the situation must be remedied and it is the duty of today's youth. In order to meet this crisis, youth must prepare himself to take his place in the business world of tomorrow.

The first step in his preparation is to educate himself to meet the needs. This education should not stop at graduation but should continue to grow and develop as the individual grows and develons. One's capacity for learning is never exhausted.

Youth must accept this responsibility, and resolve to do all in his power to relieve the strain on coming generations. He should learn the value of work well done. Will Rogers said, "Work half done is worse than no work at all." No one asks the impossible, but honest application to the task set before him will, to a great extent, relieve the sufferings of this stricken world.

There IS hope for the future and it lies in today's youth. America and the world look to him. He must not fail.

Paul Fenton is an inspector for the Dairyland Milk and Cream Company at Frasers, N. Y.

1936

Leonard Coddington is employed as a technician at the Strong Memorial Hospital in Rochester, N. Y.

1937

Miss Madeline E. Kick, of Callicoon Center and Francis J. Temple were united in marriage at a nuptial mass at the Roscoe Gate-to-Heaven Roman Catholic Church on Saturday morning, May 10.

1938

Lois Wackford became the bride of Mr. Richard O. Delong in a ceremony performed on Saturday, May 10.

1940

Ward Rowe, Jr. is employed as a shop engineer in Cortland.

Arthur Mennerich is employed by the E. I. Dupong Company at Newburgh, N. Y.

Bert Lawrence is running the home farm at Windham, N. Y.

A great many of the sons of the State School are serving for their Uncle Sam in some phase of the army.

Among those are John Lawrence and John Johnston who are at Fort McClellan, Alabama. Both fellows write of their hikes into the surrounding mountains.

Frank Reimel is in the 34th Infantry at Fort Jackson, South Carolina. He writes that he has joined the glee club and enjoys singing in it very much.

Harrison Rampe, James Hayes, Glen Beers, and James Johnson are in the 44th Division at Fort Dix, New Jersey. Glen and Jimmie have recently earned promotions to Privates, First Class.

Robert Whitmarsh is in the 14th Battalion at Fort Eustis, Virginia.

Carl Brach visited at school recently. He had been in the army only a short time when he came down with Scarlet Fever. After his quarantine was up he was given a four-weeks furlough.

George Kishpaugh, Vincent Hinckley, and Francis Flannery have also joined the ranks, but the Oracle reporter was not sure where they are located.

"They also serve who work in defense plants." David Decker is working as a shop carpenter's apprentice in a defense plant near his home in New Jersey. Daniel Cream is working at the Floyd Bennett Air Port in Brooklyn. Several are employed by the Scintilla Magneto Company in Sidney, New York. Among these are Pearl Gesell, Lawrence Carey, Kenneth Simmons, Elmer Smith, and Andrew McGranaghan; Mildred Nespor is in the office.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. Warren Eitner and Miss Lucy Breese announce their engagement. Mr. Eitner, a former poultry student of State School, is at present working at the Delaware Farms. No date has been set for the wedding.

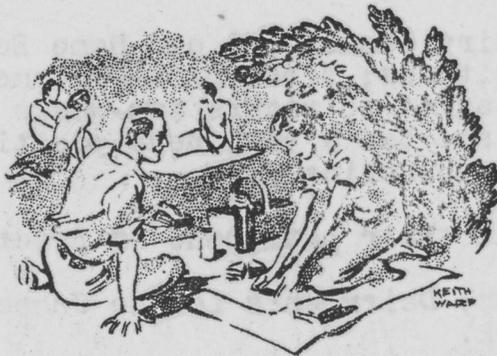

Mr. Griffin Brooks and Miss Frances McClelland announce their engagement and plan to be married in about one year. Mr. Brooks, a former "Ag" student, at present is the manager of the Berger Farm at Woodbury, Connecticut.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Bell announce the engagement of their daughter, Edith C. Bell, to Paul E. Smith. The wedding date has been set for 1942. Mr. Smith is a Dairy Herd Testor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith announce the engagement of their daughter, Florence L. Smith, to Robert D. Tyler. Mr. Tyler is a senior at the State School, majoring in the Building Construction course. March, 1942 has been set for the wedding date.

Mr. Warren Ault and Miss Dorothy Bates wish to announce their engagement. Mr. Ault is farming in New Hampton. Wedding plans have been laid aside until Miss Bates graduates from State School.

Mr. George K. Maurer of Franklin and Miss Louise Hill of Delhi announce their engagement. Mr. Maurer is managing a farm near Franklin. No wedding date has been set as yet.

ANNUAL SCHOOL PICNIC HELD IN-GROVE

COUNTRY LIFE SPONSERS DANCE AT LAST MEETING

On Thursday evening, May 22, the Country Life Club joined with the Cafeteria Management in the annual spring party of the school.

In the grove at 5:30 p.m. faculty and students enjoyed eating a picnic supper prepared under the direction of Miss Krebs.

After supper a soft ball game between men and women students was enjoyed until about 7:30 when all assembled in the gym where by this time Bert Pease and his orchestra had started playing.

An evening of round and square dancing was enjoyed by the students.

If you are considering the purchase of a farm, the following information from a Farm Management student may be of help to you:

"The best place to locate the farm is in back of the house. In this way there is no time wasted waiting for traffic crossing the road and less danger for children and other animals."

-----

If you take your ease as you go to class,
You may get some E's instead of a pass.

STUDENTS SECURE POSITIONS

Many of the Dairy Commercial and Home Economic girls have already secured positions; some for the summer, some permanent. Each D. C. girl is asked to secure two-weeks office practice after graduation, unless she has a permanent position. The H. E. girls have completed their practice work.

D. C. girls and their permanent or practice positions are:

Alfreda Mazurkiewicz, Dairymen's League Cooperative Ass. Inc.,
Buffalo, New York.

Mildred Wright, Lewis Rutherford Morris Central School, Morris, New York.

Jean Kohl, Jeffersonville Central School, Jeffersonville, New York.

Dorothy Borst, Enders Furniture Store, Oneonta, New York.

Sophie Bladykas, Raymond Bartkowiak, lawyer, Dunkirk, New York.

Ruth Humberston, C. C. Humberston Dairy Supplies, Delhi, New York.

Pearl Sayers, Davenport School for Girls, Pocono Mountains, Pennsylvania.

Mona McCall, Delaware Academy, Delhi, New York.

Edith Post, Stamford Central School, Stamford, New York, Creamery
Lab., Circilville, New York.

Peggy Liddle, Technical Control Lab., Utica, New York.

The following H. E. girls have already been placed. Those not mentioned here were on interviews as the paper went to press:

Florence Jensen, T. B. Hospital, Mt. Morris, New York.

Virginia Strangeway, Dietician at Middletown Girl Scout Camp.

Clara Andreasen, Assitant Dietician at Middletown Girl Scout Camp.

Irene Rodzai, Assistant Dietician at Brooklyn Girl Scout Camp, Pleasantville.

Lucy Breese, Judy's Tea Room, Kingston, New York.

Georgianna Jaynes, Adelynrood, South Byfield, Massachusetts.

Ruth Burgin, River Head, Long Island.

Eleanor Moody, D. C., will obtain some of her practice at the State School, Delhi, New York.

SENIOR GIRLS ENTERTAIN AT SMORGASBORD

Tuesday evening, May 20, the senior Home Ec. girls entertained Director and Mrs. Smith, the faculty women, Dairy-Commercial, and junior Home Ec. students at a Smorgasbord dinner. The cafeteria was set up with card tables which were covered with very attractive table cloths. The waitresses wore little white Scandinavian aprons which added to the atmosphere of the dinner.

The Smorgasbord consisted of a table covered with at least fifteen dishes of food. It was served similar to a buffet dinner. This was followed by a Swedish dinner served at the tables.

The entire affair was different and was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

RIDE THE WINNER

This letter was received from a winner of the 1940 poultry contest. The chicks mentioned were the prize he won.

Each summer the State School sponsors a two-day live stock and poultry judging tour to which interested high school boys are invited. The boys compete with each other in judging live stock and poultry at the school and neighboring farms.

Gouverneur, N. Y.

May 20, 1941

My dear Mr. Harvey:

I received the chicks on May 15. All were in good condition and to date I have not lost any. I wish to thank you and the school for them. I enjoyed the judging contest very much but had no idea I would win anything so you can imagine how pleased I am with such lively chicks.

Thank you again for your time.

Very truly yours,

Douglas Dodds

EGGATORIALS by CHICK

Poultry Tour

The annual poultry tour is a past event for the poultry boys, consisting of Kramp, Miller, and Ryan. Mr. Harvey took the boys to several places in the Finger Lakes Region, mainly in the vicinity of Cayuga Lake. Stops were made at Cornell, Egg and Apple Farm (James Rice's Farm), H. E. Babcock, Seneca Falls, Odessa, and Cayuga.

The stop at Cayuga was the most interesting one on the whole trip according to the boys and they would have liked to remain longer but lack of time cut their visit short.

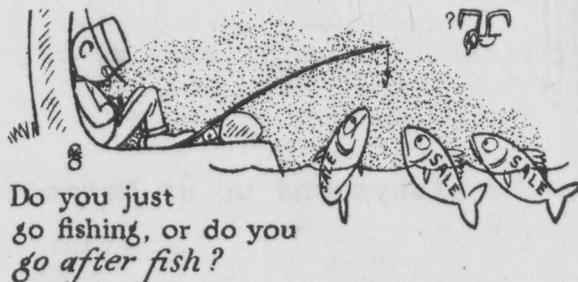

A few minor things will be remembered by the boys, such as the flat tire outside of Franklin, the beautiful scenery, and the many pamphlets and literature, plus the knowledge gained through observation on the trip.

BUSINESS CONTRACTS MADE BY 18-YEAR-OLDS NOW LEGAL

According to an article in the New York State Journal, April 21, 1941, the legal age for making contracts has been lowered to 18. The paragraph concerning this reads:

"Business contracts made by persons between the ages of 18 and 21 will be binding hereafter under another bill signed. The measure was passed because the legislators were told that thousands of persons between those ages now are in the business field. Under the old law contracts were not binding unless the person is 21 years old or over."

WYWIURKA WINS GRAND CHAMPION MEDAL

Schultz, Reserve Champion

Eddie Wywiurka won the Grand Champion Showmanship medal at the 16th annual "Little National Dairy Show," sponsored by members of the Horn and Hoof Club, held on the State School of Agriculture Campus, May 8, 1941. Mr. C. L. Allen of Kingston, New York was the official judge.

There were four classes with three entries in each except Class A, in which there were four entries, therefore, the red ribbon winner was allowed to compete for Grand Champion. In Class A, E. Wywiurka first and W. Schultz second; Class B, J. Duffy first; Class C, C. Pindar; and Class D, G. Luhman were the winners in their respective classes.

Eddie Wywiurka was presented with a gold medal. The Reserve Champion Showman winner, W. Schultz, received a silver medal. Eddie's name will be engraved on a trophy cup, given by the late Mr. C. E. Kiff. This cup is kept at the school on which the winner's name is engraved each year.

D. C. GIRLS MAKE MANORKILL FIELD TRIP

On May 10 several girls from the D. C. class combined business with pleasure by visiting the McDermott Dairy at Manorkill. The group were very warmly welcomed by the entire staff at the dairy, and their willingness to guide and explain the workings of the plant was not to be overlooked. Miss Doris Cable, an alumna of State School, is the laboratory technician at this plant.

*****

More than one bottle of concentrated sulfuric acid has gained additional strength this year, that is if it took to heart all the strong terms that the girls have applied to it whenever they found their stockings in shreds. Seeing holes appearing, girls scattered shrieking for baking soda or some alkali to counteract the acid, but the acid is a fast worker and waits for no tide, man, or girl.

The last month has been feverishly devoted to learning new experiments and tests and acquiring the necessary skill in the old procedures. Girls majoring in Dairy can be seen setting up apparatus, reading a mimeographed sheet and working out the problem involved. Class periods are scenes of lively, intelligent discussion on dairy problems that confront the laboratory worker. The agricultural background has proved very beneficial to the Dairy-Commercial girls.

Everyone is looking forward to the day of the field trip to Pete's, to see ice cream in all stages, even melting in their mouths.

TYPING ROOM TYPICALS

Despite the nice spring weather, with students passing the windows, and diverted thoughts, the girls are quickly and eagerly attaining fistfuls of certificates. Instruction being over in Math., English, and Record Keeping, all time is devoted to becoming accurate and gaining speed in dictation and typing. The thoughts of practice jobs prompt more than one to get in everything and brush up on all that she will use in her chosen line.

GANUN ELECTED HOME EC. PRESIDENT

Sidenius, Vice-President

At a recent Home Economics meeting, the election of officers for next year took place. Charlotte Ganun from Mt. Cisco will preside as president; Thelma Sidenius from New York City, vice-president; Mildred Rathbun from Unadilla, secretary; and Norma Hudson from Washingtonville, treasurer. During the business meeting, arrangements were made for the Dorm Dance and committees were nominated in charge of the dance. It was also decided that the coronation of the May Queen would take place at this time.

After the meeting was adjourned, the group enjoyed a marsh-mellow roast in the grove.

MCCLELLAND CROWNED QUEEN OF MAY

Dorm Turned into Dance Hall

Frances McClelland was crowned Queen on Friday evening, May 9, at the Home Ec. Club annual formal in the dorm. Olie Nelson and his orchestra performed the musical honors.

The clothing lab., living room, and hall were stripped of their furniture which was put anywhere to get it out of sight. The orchestra was located in the hall between the two large rooms which were used for dancing.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the May Queen, whose identity was kept secret until she descended the stairs to receive her crown. The Queen's attendants were Lucy Breeze, Edith Vickers, Clara Andreason, and Georgianna Jaynes. Pages were Nancy Henderson, who led the march, and Peggy Liddle, who came last carrying the crown. Charles VanScott, president of the senior class, then crowned the Queen with a beautiful crown of sweet peas. During the whole affair the orchestra played the coronation march.

The decorations were comprised mostly of apple blossoms which were placed at various points throughout the dorm.

Refreshments consisted of punch and cookies served at intermission by Roberta Dibble.

The chaperons included Mr. and Mrs. Flather, Mrs. Hunt, Miss Macpherson, and Miss Moss.

WAITERS ENJOY ANNUAL BANQUET

"This banquet business-" sighs Miss Krebs. Upon questioning her about the banquet-business she replied: "King Arthur, himself, would have found preparing a banquet for twenty-three hungry waiters a harder task than defeating the Danes. What with buying the best steak, vegetables, rolls, and etc. and getting my overworked (?) senior girls to prepare a feast which would satisfy the whims of everybody present and yet be able to put on a bold front, and take all the wisecracks forthcoming from "my little darlings" during the meal is a big order for one little lady to take during one day."

However, the banquet was a big success, which anyone within hearing of the cafeteria would know by the sound of the boisterous crowd.

A large meal of steak, potatoes, peas, salad, cocktail, apple pie and ice cream was topped off by such things as a cooks' "parade" which was led by the "Kitchen boys" sweetheart, Clara Andreasen, and zigzagged around the tables and finally ended with the ex-manicurist of potatoes, James Ryan, taking a group photo.

Edith Vickers and Audrey Smith sang a duet, "Show Me the Way to Go Home," which received hearty applause from everyone present.

Louis Kinney, guardian of the sacred portals, must have been born in a humorous--an inexplicable moment, with twenty-three potato mashers. His chuckles and grins and jokes intrigued everyone, they were so utterly incomprehensible.

"Kid Garbage" Meserole, (the stories he tells will not bear repeating) was honored by having the great privilege of awarding Clara Andreasen on behalf of the "Kitchen Scabs" a small token of their affections for her.

Clara Andreasen, ("To be slow in words is a woman's only virtue") when called upon for a speech replied with a gracious "Thank you."

Notables at the banquet: John Fitzpatrick, "He is so good he would pour rose water on a TOAD," very noticeable with his prominent "screw" cut; John Flannery, "the wild Irish harp has resolved to grow fat and act young until forty;" George "Butch" Luhman, "Every morn when he gets up, finds he is an inch taller;" Sidney "Dismal" Dean, "At the head of his class--in alphabetical order;" Halsey VanOrman, "Lightning has nothing on him when it comes to basketball;" George Conover, "We talked and he talked with us. We stopped and he talked alone;" George Welch, "Fashioned so slenderly, tall and so fair;" Bill Shultz, "He travels the fastest who travels alone;" Charles VanScott, "At basebell he's a whiz but fails completely in a quiz;" besides these outstanding (in their own professions) waiters there were many more which--but space does not permit mentioning.

B. C. PROJECT HAS SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION

Lippa House Completed

Practical work, and plenty of it, has been the watchword of the Building Construction department for the past year. By far the greater part of the class hours has been spent in planning and erecting a $7,500 (students' estimate) house for Mr. Adolf Lippa. Students worked on the plan, estimated the job, figured out the heating system, and built and installed everything in the house except the plumbing and the plaster. Today, the work the school contracted to do on the house is completed. It is expected that the house will be open for inspection during graduation week.

As it stands now the house has no particular style. It leans more to the colonial than anything else. The house was rather difficult to work on because the client had set definite needs that had to be incorporated into the plan. Last year's seniors, Ward Rowe, Elmer Clark, and Hank Mangels, had much to do with whipping the plan into shape. They had to produce a modern kitchen, good sized dining room, large windows and plenty of them, lots of closet space, three bedrooms and bath on the second floor, a bedroom, lavatory and kitchen on first floor. Another stipulation was insistence on an up-to-date electrical system. The boys solved this problem and produced all the elements required. As a result the house has eleven closets. There are twenty electrical outlets in the living room; over 140 in the house. A very modern Bell and Gosselt forced hot water system was installed.

Actual work started on October 7, 1940 with the footing forms being installed. From then work proceeded rapidly. Under the leadership of Mr. Dooley, a concrete block foundation was laid in six days. Mr. Sommers then took over and he really had a job on his hands in finding and directing work for 17 students. His success as a boss can be judged from the fact that no student lacked a job and the work went right along.

Framing was started at noon on October 14 ahead of schedule. It took four weeks to frame the house. On November 25 the roof was completed. The boys ran into nasty weather. The second floor was framed in a miserable, driving snow storm. Charles VanScott and Warren Wackford have memories of brooming snow off the roof before they could shingle. Before Christmas vacation the house was all sheathed, closed in, rough wiring was in, and the house was ready for plaster. It was a very close race. When the house was all ready for plaster, vacation was 15 minutes away.

ELLIS TO HEAD TRI-ATELIER IN '41-'42

The old officers step out and the new officers step in as the Tri-Atelier Club prepares for another successful year. At the last meeting, which was held April 30, 1941, Phil Ellis was chosen to the presidency of the Tri-Atelier for the coming year. The other officers are: vice-president, Howard Weber; treasurer, Guy Holtmart; secretary, Louis Kinney; sergeant-at-arms, Zane Tomas. Other freshmen that will carry on next year are August Mangels and John West.

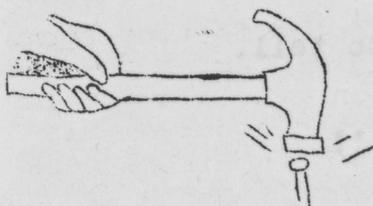

Surely none of the students will forget the successful formal dance the Tri-Atelier Club put on January 10, 1941. The Balle Moderne, with its silver decorations, was one of the outstanding dances at the State School this year.

In the shop on Wednesday nights, the boys have been making many nice things for themselves. Some of the seniors have made tool boxes. Others have made lamps and other furnishings, including some wood carvings. Bill VanWagner is making a beautiful spinet bed.

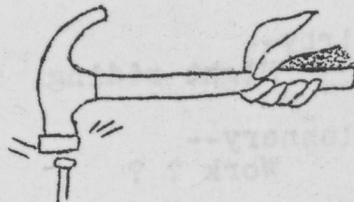

Sunday, afternoon and evening, May 11, the club enjoyed a "get-together" at Mitchell Park. Each member had the privilege of asking a friend along for the gay outing. Hot dogs, potato chips, and soft drinks were consumed quite rapidly about 5:30, and then later in the evening marshmallows were enjoyed.

All in all the Tri-Atelier Club has had a successful year and look forward to an even better one next year.

MORE ABOUT B. C. PROJECT

The trim-work was started on February 17. First the red oak floor was laid out in the position it was to occupy when nailed. There were two reasons for this procedure--one was to let the lumber reach the same moisture content as the rest of the house; the other was to save time in laying the floor. By March 5 the floor was all nailed down. By the time the Easter vacation rolled around, the stairs to the second floor and a great deal of finish hardware was installed.

The job turned out very well and mistakes were noticeable by their absence. Mr. Sommers stated that the workmanship was good and that the house was one of which any contractor could be proud.

FRESHMEN MAKE ADDITION TO MASONRY BUILDING

The freshmen Construction boys, under the supervision of Mr. Sommers, are building an addition on the masonry shop.

The new addition is about 16'x20' frame construction. It is built at the rear entrance to the masonry shop. The purpose of the addition is to make more room in the shop.

The addition will be used mostly for storage of sand, bricks, and other materials.

Part of the addition will be used for a mixing room. This will make approximately 25 per cent more floor space in the shop--for the projects of both freshmen and seniors.

All masonry construction done on the building was supervised by Mr. Dooley. The seniors laid up the stone foundation and freshmen did the frame work.

JUNIOR HOME EC. GIRLS HONOR
SISTER SENIORS AND FACULTY

On the evening of April 24, at 7:30 o'clock, the Home Management girls--Thelma Sidenius, Marjorie Grindrod, Evelyn Purchell, and Agnes O'Boyle--entertained the Senior Home Economics girls as well as Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Smith, Mrs. Hunt, Miss Krebs, Miss Macpherson, and Miss Moss at a formal dinner.

The menu consisted of seven courses which were prepared and served by members of the Junior Home Economics Class, under the supervision of Miss Macpherson.

Group A served it with Anne Ellis as head waitress.

Group B prepared it with Dorothy Bates as chief quiet paroler.

The menu consisted of :

SAY DID YOU KNOW THIS?

DELHI vs. CAZENOVIA 8-5

Traveling to Cazenovia in the 'zippiest' of spirits, the Bronoco Ball Players ripped up a score of 8 to 5.

VanScott, pitcher and one of the highest batters of the season, pitched a shut-out game. Caz. only got two hits and both were in the sixth inning. Delhi got twelve hits--VanScott 3; Viele, 2; Burley, 2; Angelides, 2; and Duncan, 1 (a homer).

Messerole was a hero for Cazenovia--serving as a back-stop twice, once more than Brute Welch. Although it's a hard way to get on base, Dudley said it was another run for Delhi.(?)

The sixth inning proved to be thrilling when Duncan hit a homer with the bases loaded.

Mr. Taylor expressed himself as being pleased with the accomplishments of the Bucking Broncos.

SOFTBALL INTRAMURAL

In softball, the two boys' departments, Construction and Agriculture, engage in five games, three of which have been played. The Aggies won the first, 11-4. The Aggie Department also won the second game 17-4; but the Construction boys won the third game, 17-4. The last two games will decide the winning department.

HORSE SHOES

Horse shoes the most popular spring intramural is being met with great enthusiasm. Many skilled and experienced pitchers are challenging each other to a game. Score is kept by the bracket method. To date, VanWagner, Kinney, Ryan, Dougherty, and Schultz are the best horse shoe throwers.

CHECKERS

The checker tournament is now near completion. Out of sixteen extrants, Kenneth Duncan and August Mangels are the two men. Winner of this final match will be the Champion Checker player of "Ag" School.

HANDBALL

R. Alpert and W. Schultz, are the top men in handball, a minor intramural.

"BREATHES THERE A MAN"

Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
    This' is my own, my native land?
Whose heart hath ne'er within him burned,
As home his footsteps he hath turned,
    From wandering on a foreign strand?
If such there breathe, go, mark him well;
For him no Minstrel raptures swell;
High though his titles, proud his name,
Boundless his wealth as wish can claim;
Despite those titles, power, and pelf,
The wretch, concentr'd all in self,
Living, shall forfeit fair renown,
And, doubly dying, shall go down
To the vile dust, from whence he sprung,
Unwept, unhonored, and unsung.
