LUCKLESS FRIDAY HITS TECH

College Union Presents Folk Singers Oct. 13

College Union will feature the folk singing brothers "Every Mothers' Son" on Friday evening, 8:00 p.m., October 13. Admission will be $1.00. Proceeds will be donated to the College's scholarship fund.

The folk singing group will begin the Fall Festival Week-end, Saturday, October 14 and Sunday, October 15, features athletic events, car rally, concert choir, and admissions counseling. Dancing, $3.00 per couple, by the Sonny Kippe Orchestra for the College Scholarship Fund, will be the Saturday evening attraction at Fall Festival Open House, 9:00 p.m. in the College gym.

The Every Mothers' Son have spent four years in the New York area in all types of engagements. They recently appeared at New York's famous Bitter End Cafe. They have just returned from a cross-country tour promoting their new album. Their music is meaningful and marks the newest tradition of rock music—it has originality and style.

Fall Week-end At Delhi College

The first major week-end of the year is scheduled October 13-15. The College Union, host of this year's Fall Festival, has planned a full schedule of events for alumni, students and guests.

Friday night, October 13, Every Mother's Son will kick-off activities when they present a show at 8 p.m. in Farrell Hall gymnasium. The Sons are a top singing group who are headed toward the number one spot on the music charts. They have appeared on television, in clubs and on many college campuses. Another highlight of the weekend will be the semi-formal dance Saturday evening, October 14. Saturday afternoon athletic events scheduled are soccer; Delhi vs. Auburn Community College and a tri-cross country meet, Delhi vs. Auburn and Farmingdale.

A hayride, raft race, choir concert, road rally, as well as a Miss Delhi contest are other events scheduled for this big week-end. A scholarship buffet is scheduled for Sunday. Proceeds will be donated to the Student Aid Foundation to help the College's commitment in offering ten per cent of its student body scholarship aid.

The public is cordially invited to attend any or all of these events.

Spoof on Simon And Garfunkel

U.C.M. presented a so called spoof on popular folk singer Simon and Garfunkel. Father Paul Engel, who is chaplain of Hudson Valley Community College, was supposed to be the two singers mentioned above. This production was put on in Farrell Hall, in the Little Theater at 7:46.

But this reporter found the evening somewhat of a disappointment. The posters made for this event and posted around the school, gave the impression that Father Engel was going to sing and impersonate them. He did not. What he did was present an evening with taped songs and a discussion with the famed group on their recordings. Father Engel is a disc jockey turned priest and a greater part of the audience listened attentively and quietly.

The discussion turned out to be rather good. The audience was invited up on the stage to have a seat. About 45-50 attended and considering the size of the audience applause was good.

International Relations Club

Freshmen and Seniors, now is the time to become active in your college's International Relations Club.

Our purpose is to help students in formulating positions on international issues. To do this we have discussion groups, movies, lectures and attend conferences held at well known colleges. Last year conferences were held about Communism in Latin America at Albertus Magnus College and an Annual China Conference was held at Harvard University. This year we hope to have as guest speakers Congressman Dow, a Peace Corpsman and a speaker on foreign trade. Our graduates are in demand overseas and therefore this year the International Relations Club hopes to work closely with the divisional organizations.

Come to this year's first International Relations Club meeting. It will be held on October 19, Thursday, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 101 of Sanford Hall.

Tech Hosts Gregg Smith Singers

On Friday evening, October 6, 1967, the College Union presented the Gregg Smith Singers. This concert was held in the Farrell Hall Gymnasium at 8:00 p.m. There was no charge for this performance and the public was cordially invited.

The Gregg Smith Singers are without a doubt the best choral ensemble in the country. They display a seemingly effortless superiority in all choromusical departments, a rapport with the audience that spells theatre magic.

These talented young people and their gifted leader bring to their performances an extra dimension—a dedication to each other and to the music they are performing. This alone is unique among professional choruses.

Actually the Gregg Smith Singers are easily the most innovative choral group to appear on the scene in the last two decades.

Editorial . . .

Lately I have noticed the ambiguity and contradictions evident in the instructors on this campus. Supposedly this is an educational institute striving to educate the uneducated, to organize the unorganized and enlighten those who dwell in a dark house.

I ask, how can this be done when instructors insist on confusing the students? How can a student learn to discern what is real and intended if he is continually bombarded with lies.

The instructors talk of ethics in business. Why not ethics in education? Why can't a teacher back up what he says? Why must he weasel out of previous statements by pretending they were never meant.

Respect from the students can not be obtained by dodging his instructing responsibilities. First cause should be to the student not to the division head. Changing course in mid-stream causes student confusion. Even the loss of interest by students is directly connected to a teachers ability to teach.

Perhaps the problem is in the fact that we consider most of our instructors as teachers when in reality they are only proctors. Consider the background of our teaching staff. Some are only graduates of Delhi Tech, others have Doctorates. Who is better qualified to teach and grade? Who knows more on a subject? Who has been exposed to teaching techniques?

Basically then, we must consider who is capable of getting information across to the student. A Delhi grad or a professional teacher? The professional teacher of course. How many professional teachers do you have — not those who are teachers by profession — there is a difference.

Should a student be kept off balance or should he be secure in knowing where he stands?

The lecturers in the management courses on our campus tell us that an employee must know where he stands at all times, not kept off balance. What is the justification for keeping a student off balance. Are we better than an employee of a business. Are we all philosophy majors unknowingly?

College Union Notes

Chuck Leniek

It looks like the College Union Board is off to a big start this year. In our first three meetings we have averaged over 100 freshmen in attendance. I hope all of you who have been coming regularly will stick with us, as you will be the ones who will be taking over next year.

As for new ideas that have been brought up, there are several worth mentioning here. First, our beer proposal has been revised and is back in the red red tape at the Administration Building now. Possibly by the time this issue is out, we may have a new ruling on beer on campus, at least in the College Union bomb shelter. More news as we get it, so keep watching!

We've had new 45's put in the juke box in the game room, so you now have a better selection than before. We'll replace old records as we deem it necessary.

The Social Committee is planning a Hallowe'en Dance, and would like any suggestions you may have.

And if you want to see some wild pictures (these are even better than stag movies) stop up and see the ones we got back from Orientation! Any resemblance between the persons in the pictures and any person on the campus is strictly a coincidence and is completely beyond our control!!

The Union again has two projectors in the Little Theatre, thus ending the inconvenience of waiting between reels on Sunday nights.

Several other notes; the Danish Gym Team will be here on Tuesday, October 17, at 8:00 in the Gym. This promises to be a spectacular show of gymnastics and physical dexterity. All of you are invited to attend.

Here's an accurate (I hope) account of what's going on this Fall Weekend:

"Moments Of Awareness"

By Christine Ellison

So much of life we all pass by
With heedless ear and careless eye.

Bent with our cares
We plod along,
Blind to the beauty
Deaf to the song.

But moments there are
When we pause to rest and turn our eyes from
The goal's far crest.
We become aware of the way-
side flowers,
And sense God's hand in this world of ours.

We hear a refrain,
See a rainbow's end,
Or we look into the heart of a friend.

We feel at one with mankind.
We share his griefs and glories,
Joy and care.

The sun flecks gold through the sheltering trees,
And we shoulder our burdens with twice the ease.
Peace and Content and a world that sings.
The moment of true awareness brings.

Student Senate Minutes

September 26, 1967

A regular meeting of Student Senate was called to order at 5:05 by Vice-President Josie Treurniet. The roll was taken and the minutes were approved as read. The treasurer reported a balance of $4,031.01 for this year, $1,635.24 as of the end of last year, and $288.35 earned from the jukebox.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Fall Week-end will be held this year on October 13-15 and will be sponsored by the College Union. Vice-President Treurniet asked the Union to submit a full report by the next meeting. Organizations who plan to have exhibits will have their locations announced at the next meeting.

Vice-President Treurniet explained the meeting, organized by the Executive Board. The brainstorming session that followed was for the purpose of getting more people interested in Senate, improving communication between faculty and students, and more school spirit. Senate then broke up into six groups to discuss the following questions:

1. What is the purpose of Senate?
2. How can we improve Senate?
3. Why did I become a Senator?
4. What can my organization do for Senate?
5. Am I doing the job of Senator for my organization?
6. What is the purpose of a Senator?

At 5:40, Vice-President Treurniet brought the meeting to order for open discussion on the above topics. Secretaries appointed in each group read minutes on what was discussed. No discussion. The Executive Board hopes the purpose of our special brainstorming session was fulfilled. A new and promising year is ahead of us and with the help of each senator we're hoping to make it a successful one.

Meeting adjourned at 5:48.

Student Focus

George Ronald Courington has views on every subject so don't ask him any questions unless you have several hours to kill.

Ron, as his friends call him, was born in Atlanta, Georgia on August 31, 1947.

He likes motorcycles, music, art, sports, and writing. His build is better suited to football than to writing. He's six feet tall and he weighs in at 185 pounds. He plans to continue his education after Delhi.

Ron seems to get along fairly well with people. It's his philosophy not to judge anyone prematurely. "I'll always give someone the benefit of a doubt." But it doesn't bother him at all if he has to step on people to get ahead.

I asked him what he thought of the flower children. "I don't. I lived with them for part of a summer. We lived on brown rice and water. It's not bad tasting, really, and it has all the vitamins and things that you need."

"Actually, though, the hippies have some good ideas; but they aren't practicable. Just like Communism is a great idea on paper, but it can't work."

"They aren't doing anything new or constructive. They're not producing. They're just existing, and that's bad."

"They're trying to work from the outside, in, instead of conforming with society and working from the inside, out."

"They're not practising what they preach. They tell us to love everybody, but if a guy goes by with short hair and a suit they'll make fun of him."

I asked him if the hippies were just going through a fad trying to find themselves.

"No, I don't think so. I mean it's easy enough to say, 'Hey, Man, leave me alone, I'm trying to find the real me.', but it isn't like that. They're trying to cover up their identities by projecting an image of rejection. They can't take life as it is, so they drop out of it, it's a lot easier to do that than it is to conform."

"Does drug addiction fit in there somewhere," I asked.

"Sure, with drugs they drop out completely. They're completely out of it. Personally I can't see smoking pot or something. It's for the birds. I don't have to get away from everything. Since there's a law against it that makes it the thing to do. It, more or less, goes along with the classic rebellion, if there really is such a thing as a rebellious youth."

I asked Ron if he would condone the use of marijuana if it were legalized.

"Why not? The only thing wrong with it is the fact that it's against the law. If it weren't illegal it wouldn't be harmful. I've heard some doctors say they'd rather have their kids smoke pot than smoke cigarettes or drink liquor."

"What do you think of the hippy's notion of free love?" was my next question.

"Oh, I like that idea, so long as love is sex. After all who wants to pay for it?"

"What do you think," I asked, "is the basic difference between Christian religions?"

"There is no difference. Why worry about where or how you worship as long as you do? I guess the only difference is in the Catholic Church. They're a lot stricter there. I don't like Catholicism much. I don't see why the priest gets to down the wine, and not the people. When those wafers get stuck to the roof of your mouth you need something to wash it down with."

"I don't think the church service is necessary. Just because you're in church doesn't give you a hot line to heaven. You're on the same wavelength, no matter where you are."

Next, I asked Ron if he considered the Bible to be an accurate history.

"I think the Bible is nothing more or less than a book of laws and fables. You can't know if any of the Bible stories really happened. Who can say that Jesus actually walked the earth and not merely in the minds of people?"

"Don't forget that this is a superstitious age. The authors of the Bible were uneducated, primitive, men. Even as late as the sixteenth century they were burning witches and things. So the stories about Christ kept growing and growing until they got out of hand. It's like the stories about Billy the Kid or Paul Bunyon."

"I believe in the Bible as a moral code and a way to live. But as a History Book I don't at all. (I don't see any lightning bolts any where.)"

My interview wouldn't be complete without getting Ron's views on Viet Nam.

"U. S. being in Viet Nam, is like the English helping the South during the Civil War. We had no business going there in the first place. Now we do; we've got our backs up against a wall."

"We couldn't let a grubby little country that can't even feed itself take over Big America."

"They say if we get out now Communism will slowly take over the East. That's in the cards. If we have to fight for every little country in the east, then we're going along with Karl Marx. We're forcefully shoving capitalism and democracy down everyone's throat. We should have had the foresight to stay out of Viet Nam in the first place. We figured we'd just throw a few bullets at them, and all they'd throw back is rice cakes, and they'd say, 'Thank you for not killing us, and we'll be your friends.' But it just hasn't worked out that way."

"We need the war, economically, but we don't need the hardships that go with it."

I asked him then, what his views on Civil Rights were.

"I'll tell you this," he said, "I know a lot of Negroes I like better than a lot of whites. There are also some I'd shoot as soon as look at. I judge a person by what kind of a person he is, not by what he looks like or what color he is."

"That 'Black Power' slogan is unfortunate. I don't think the majority of Negroes go along with it."

"They don't really have it that bad anyway. Sure white people mock them sometimes, but a lot of spade cats have mocked me because of my hair and beard and my pot gut."

"The whites are definitely in the wrong in some cases. But the Negroes are in the wrong too. I know two 'wrongs' don't make a 'right' but the second wrong always feels better."

"I don't even condemn H. Rap and Stokely. At least they have the strength of their convictions, if they really believe in what they're doing. If they're doing it for money, more power to them and if they're doing it for a name they already have it."

I heard Ron was going to start his own newspaper, so I asked him about it.

"People of the world! There will be a magazine! I don't know what the name of it will be or exactly what will be in it. But there will be one if I have to type out 100 copies or one copy or even write it on men's room walls."

"We'll probably have psychedelic drawings and lots of dirty jokes and more of what's going on outside the Tech, more current issues like this article and lots of other trash. All I need is an O.K. from the Administration and some backing from the student body."

"So buy my magazine. I don't know what it will cost yet. Maybe it will be free but buy it, anyway if you're stupid enough to buy a free magazine."

I guess the existence of the pirates is common knowledge on campus. But who are they? What is their purpose? That's what I asked Ron. He was accepted as a pirate third term last year.

"It's kind of hard to say really, there are about 21 of us I guess. We're just a group of guys who are friends."

"I guess you could call us a drinking club, or a mutual admiration club, or a self preservation club, or call us what ever you want."

"Joe Tursey is our founder, be sure to mention that."

"I guess what it is, is that if it weren't for the pirates the school would be over-run with fraternities. All of them running around, each saying that they're the best when they all know that we're the best."

"Maybe I sound cocky. Well I am cocky. But when you're good you should be able to say so, right? The Pirates not only have the best athletes on campus but some of the smartest and broad-minded people, too."

Next I asked Ron if he had heard about UCM's proposed coffee house.

"Yes, I think it's the greatest thing I've ever heard. I was talking to Reverend Smith the other day. My roommate, Mark Schafer, and I are going to help out as much as we can with the layout of the place and maybe paint a wall with a psychedelic drawing or something."

"The best part about it is that you don't have to risk your neck driving ten miles back from Ike's, drunk. It will be a sort of quiet meeting place, where you know you can get a good cup of coffee, and some good conversation. I'll pass up Ike's or Oneonta for it. I'll be there faithfully. If they need someone to work I'll volunteer my services."

"It's just the thing we need around here to get peoples' minds moving. It will provide an atmosphere for thinking."

"It's also another choice for what to do on week-ends. If you ask someone what they're doing you know they'll say either Ike's or Oneonta. You know they're not going to say, 'Well I guess I'll go down to Delhi and hang around.' But now with this coffee house they have a third choice. I think it's really a good idea. When it opens, everybody, go and support it."

As the year progresses, UCM does also, and we're becoming the most vital movement on campus, gaining momentum daily.

The Happening and the Chaplain's Reception for Freshmen have been — and there's always more to come. "The Detective," shown the 27th of September, began the series of Wednesday night movies sponsored by UCM. There are two new projectors that work! and the coming films are beyond your expectations, for example, "La Dolce Vita," "The Dutchman," and "Shop on Main Street."

Our Thursday evening planning and discussion sessions have begun. Enthusiasm is infectious. You know how you've felt about church and Christianity the past couple of years. Who are you? What is a Christian? How does a Christian live in this world? What does he live for? Or, for that matter, what does he die for? We haven't found the answers — but we're looking, we're talking, and we want and need to know. Come and help us and yourselves satisfy this curiosity and need.

Wednesday, October 4th, Paul Engel from Hudson Valley Community College furthered our insight in modern music and lyrics. Simon and Garfunkel feed us more than a beat and darned good music. Paul Simon writes lyrics that make you wake up and recognize your roommate or the fellow sitting across the table from you at the Snack Bar . . . or yourself. Paul Engel is coming back with more — and more will come back for him — this time at the coffee house.

The coffee house, too, is for you: your ideas, music, art, voices, and whatever you want to contribute. The immediate needs are twofold — physical and mental energy and creativity. The "place" is downtown beside the Delhi Diner and needs cleaning up and re-construction (that's a hint) and decorating. Interested volunteers are needed.

So what will happen after the coffee house opens? The same things — and more — that are happening now, except not in Farrell A and B where we have been having our discussions. Is sex more suitable and desirable within or without marriage? Why was your buddy killed in Vietnam? Who or what runs the Great Teaching Machine? and are we perforated cards that it spits out into society? We love to talk and listen. Do you?

On Thursday, September 28, the Brothers of Psi Delta Omega held a smoker for interested freshmen and seniors. The event took place in their fraternity house located at 136 Main Street.

The purpose of the smoker was to acquaint the rushees with the Brothers and the fraternity house.

The 35 rushees and two female Oracle reporters were greeted by 22 brothers. Included among these were their officers.

President — Bill Chermak
Vice President — Joe Parillo
Secretary — Rich Allyn
Treasurer — Mike Lynch
Social Chairman — Larry Newman

Correspondence Secretary — Bob Kilinski

House Manager — Joe Hinchman

Also greeting the guests were the official Frat cats, Rosedale and Harwood.

The Brothers of Psi D furnished their guests with food and cigarettes, of which Winston was No. 1. Records were played, and a pool table was provided for entertainment.

We would like to congratulate the poverty stricken brothers who made it through last weeks hail of fines caused by Joey Hinchman, our lovable house mother. We would like to also congratulate Larry Newman on becoming pinned to Pat Constantine of our sister sorority ABX.

We would like to welcome back Mike Lynch, Larry Newman, and Gary Wickham, who are studying for their Doctorate. While on the subject of congratulations, they are also in order for Jimmy Bear who put in two goals in last weeks game against Morrisville.

The Smush Party held jointly by Psi-D and ABX was a big success, and the first of its kind on the Delhi campus. We are glad to hear you enjoyed yourselves. The Brothers are all looking forward to Fall Week-end. It too looks like a success.

Things are pretty well settled down here at the new house, and here are a few things to prove it: What 8 brothers helped make their sisters rush party a rousing success, and what sisters swam down to the Psi-D smoker in retaliation. Our Idiot-of-the-Week award goes to Gary Downs, who lost his car in O-town. Downsie also split the safe - drivers - award with Jim Bear. Downsie hit one of the neighbors, and Jim didn't make all his passengers wear seat belts. What two brothers made a free fall jump without a parachute? What red head has been seen on campus wearing a leash? We are pleased to announce that Joey Parillo is the mother of two healthy cats. Joey is teaching them to chase rats, but unfortunately its not working that way. What two brothers were last seen eating blueberry pie, 4 AM Sunday?

A few last minute notes; Larry Newman has about 1/2 of his wall now covered with pictures from the Christian Herald. Fang now has a matching set. Larry Menig doesn't sleep in the dining room anymore, and I'm going out for a beer.

Our first meeting was held September 21 in the Little Theatre. We made nominations for vice president and Senate Representatives. We'll vote on these nominations at our next meeting. We have also set up a planning committee, to schedule such events as our parties at the College Inn and Scotch Valley.
 We kicked off our new year with a beer blast, that seemed to be enjoyed by all. The weather wasn't the best, but the provisions made up for it. I'd like to ask a few questions about that afternoon.
 Is Chris a professional beer keg tapper, or are his skills well hidden in other departments?

 Why did the afternoon end up being called "Our Foam Blast?"
 We'd like to remind you all that: "If you are a member, why not attend the meetings? and if you're not a member, come anyway. We'd love to have you."

Hillside Riders Presents . . .

On Tuesday, October 3, the Hillside Riders presented a movie entitled "Introduction To The Arabian Horse." The movie proved to be most interesting and enjoyable to the audience. The movie pointed out the most interesting facts pertaining to the Arabian horse, such as breed characteristics, endurance, conformation, natural gaits, ability and color types. Also discussed in the movie were the varieties or classes in which the Arabian horse may compete at the Arabian Horse Show.
 Arabians are excellent Dressage horses because of their unique conformation and amazing distribution of weight. In both competition and exhibition the Arabian horse proves to be a stiff rival.
 The Hillside Riders are a group of Delhi Tech students who wish to further their knowledge about horses and share this knowledge by showing movies, taking trips to various horse farms around and in the immediate area and by hosting guest speakers, who will in turn, share their experiences with the Riders.
 President of the Riders, Pat Place, anticipates a good year for the organization. Already the second meeting has drawn over fifty spectators.

Delhi Concert Band News

On Monday evening the first rehearsal was held for the newly formed Delhi Community Concert Band. Approximately 30 persons attended the rehearsal. A considerable amount of new music has been purchased for the band. It is planned that the first concert will be in January and tentatively consist of the following selections:
 Irish Folk Song Suite by Frank Erickson
 Chorale and Alleluia by Howard Hanson
 Montego Bay (samba) by Sammy Nestico
 Theme Music from Exodus by Ernest Gold (arr. by Alfred Reed)
 March of The Olympians by Walker and Linn

His Honor (march) by Henry Fillmore
 Solvejg's Song (from Peer Gynt Suite No. 2) by Edward Gieg
 Other music to be used in following concerts will be such selections as:
 Coronation March by G. Meyerbeer (arr. Johnson)
 Love's Dream After the Ball (march paraphrase) by Alphons Czibulka
 La Cumparsita by Matos Rodriguez
 The Blue and the Grey (Civil War Suite) by Clare Grundman
 Themes from Doctor Zhivago by Maurice Jarre
 Finlandia (tone poem) by Jean Sibelius arr. for Sumpionic Band by Lucien Cailliet
 Parade of the Charioteers (from Ben Hur) by Miklos Rozsa
 In order to have a successful Delhi Concert Band there must be interest in that band. Many persons have expressed a sincere interest or the organization would not have been formed. Now the responsibility for the success of this musical organization rests on the members themselves. If YOU want to have a Community Concert Band in Delhi YOU must show it by attending rehearsals faithfully. The future of the Concert Band will be decided within the next few weeks. Either it will be a success or a failure. With the college community and the village for source of musicians, the band should number at least 50 persons. The music performed is the quality that YOU WANT TO PERFORM. Don't give the poor excuse, "I would love to be in the band but . . ." This will not do. Support your band by attending rehearsals on Monday evening at 8:00 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

Hotelmens Meet

The first meeting this year of the Hotelmens Association was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Jim Murphy with Warren Delpit as Advisor and John Bryson as Assistant Advisor. The first item on the agenda was the election of Miss Nancy Stage as the new treasurer for the organization, by an overpowering majority. Next a Calendar Committee was formed and Gary Pinto was appointed to head up this committee. A discussion followed as to how the organization was to get new members, their goal - all the students of the HRIM Division. As was pointed out the organization could expand their activities with more members showing an active interest in it. A "Rable Rouser" Committee was formed for this purpose.
 Future plans for the upcoming school year were also discussed. Several community projects that would benefit the organization, the college, and the town and its environs were also discussed. Other possibilities for the upcoming year that were brought up were dinners, various field trips and excursions, speakers from the HRIM field that might be able to address the group, beer blasts and cocktail parties.
 One of the high points of the evening was the attendance of Mr. Delpit's puppy, Beau, who captured quite a bit of attention from the members present.

By Sue Scobell
 I know: I am as certain as the sunset.
 I do not know: I wander as the wind.
 I am all afire: I am a flame burning true.
 I am an ash: I am a greyness covering over.
 I run straight ahead, laughing. I stumble and fall, crying.
 I am held by the spell of your eyes.
 I am troubled by the demand of your kiss.
 I am, yet not I am: what am?

Vietnam War Issues to Be Debated

Two veteran foreign correspondents who have spent many years in eye-witness reporting and interpretation of Asian affairs will present the issues involved in the great American debate over the War in Vietnam here on October 19, 1967 at 8:00 p.m., Farrell Hall Gym, under the auspices of Delhi Tech's Forum Lecture Exhibit Committee. The title of their debate is "Is The U. S. Military Presence In Southeast Asia Necessary To Preserve World Peace?"

Outlining and discussing the Vietnam War from the viewpoint of the policies being carried forward by the Johnson Administration is James Robinson, NBC Foreign Correspondent, now covering the U. S. State Department. David Hardy, who first went to Asia as a British Commando in World War II and who has been in and out of the Far East repeatedly ever since, will argue that Americans should de-escalate the War in Vietnam, turn the country back to Vietnamese, and get our troops out as soon as feasible.

Until his recent assignment to Washington, Mr. Robinson was NBC News Bureau Chief in the divided city of Berlin, but he frequently travelled to Moscow and the eastern bloc nations. Aside from this relatively brief stint, he has spent most of the past twenty years in various parts of Asia.

James Robinson spent most of World War II in military service in the south, central and eastern Pacific. Then he returned to the Far East, first to Peking, China, where he witnessed the revolution that overthrew the Nationalists from power and installed the Communists. He viewed Mao Tse Tung's victory march into Peking and later witnessed a similar scene as Ho Chi Minh entered Hanoi, following the collapse of that former French colonial.

Robinson was born in Minneapolis in 1922 and was raised in Montana and Washington. He has graduated from Washington State University in 1948 with a B.A. degree. He did graduate work at both Tsinghua and Yenching Universities in Peking. Robinson also served one year as a lecturer at Tsinghua.

In 1950 Robinson became an editor and publisher of a daily newspaper in Bangkok, Thailand. Later he served as an advisor to the then Prime Minister of that country. He went to Korea to cover that war a few months after its outbreak where he was hired by NBC. He spent the rest of the war there reporting on the Panmunjom peace talks aside from military stories. With a truce in Korea, Robinson was dispatched to Indo-China where he covered the French defeat at Dienbienphu which led to the French withdrawal from that country. Another truce and he was off to cover the war in Malaya. And so it has been—the entire spectrum of Asian wars, riots, coup d'etat and other turmoils marking that continent during this turbulent period of history.

During his world beat Robinson has had intimate exchange of views with such world figures as the Soviet Union's Krushchev, Communist China's Premier Chou En-lai and Nationalist China's Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, India's Pandit Nehru, Indonesia's Sukarno, plus a host of personalities and history makers in nearly every other world region.

David Keith Hardy, now Director of the Morse Center for the Study of Communications at Brandeis University, recently returned from a tour of India and the Southeastern Asia peninsula. His tour also included India, Burma, and parts of Malaysia. In India he filmed a one hour color film documentary. He also filmed much new material in Cambodia and Thailand, as well as in Vietnam.

David Keith Hardy has reported and filmed wars and near-wars all over the world for many years. He served as Captain in Britain's Royal Marine Commandos in Yugoslavia, North Africa, Burma and China during World War II. Since then, he has reported from Korea, Algeria, Vietnam, Malaysia and Indonesia.

Born in Ireland, and travelling the world, Mr. Hardy was invited to the United States by Lowell Thomas to write and lecture. He has held several important posts, including that of news analyst for NBC and Director of the Motion Picture Division of "Look" Magazine. He was director of Special Projects for Time, Inc., and presented Life's "World We Live In," on the lecture platform in 250 cities. Following this, he launched the

Cross Country Team Suffers Setback

Wednesday, October 3rd, the cross country team suffered a temporary setback at the hands of Cortland State and Oneonta State. Delhi didn't come in last because it was a quadrangular meet with Utica making up the fourth member of the quadrangle. We beat Utica but we had a harder time against the other two teams.

Before the meet Coach Jones had a few remarks to make about his team. Last year Delhi was the regional champ and had a record of 20 and 2. Delhi has a reputation to uphold and the freshman class for the most part haven't helped much. The team has three runners back from last year, one of which is hurt. The team, because of it's small size, has very little depth. The members on the team have been giving 100% at all times and will continue to do so. The teams goal this year is the same as that of last year, regional three champs. Coach Jones issued an invitation to any and all members of the student body who have had any experience in Cross Country at all to come out for the team now while there is still time left. Last year the team went to Florida for their final meet.

All home meets are run at the college golf course and the major portion of the meet can be seen from the club house. All students interested are welcome to go out and watch the meet and support our team. They'll need help if we expect them to go all the way this year.

The sports staff of the Oracle wishes the team luck and wants to say that we're behind you all the way.

Victory At "Stony Ridge"

The "stony ridge boys" got their first taste of victory Saturday, September 30, over the Aggies from Morrisville. The field was muddy from the rain the night before. Before the game it looked like anyone could win under the poor conditions.

Under the fine coaching of Coach Reither, the Broncos scored their first goal of the season and game, 13 minutes into the first period. It was scored by the left inside Jim Simson, when he received a pass from Bill Iannoue, when Jim caught the goalie out of the net. By the time the first 22 minute period ended the Broncos had, had 14 attempts at the goal. The Aggies came back hard in the second period and dominated play most of the time. As halftime had rolled around the score was still one to zero in favor of Delhi Tech.

The weather started getting chilly as the third quarter began. The Broncos once again dominated play. Near the end of the quarter Bill McCann scored as he shot a ball over the goalies' hands. The Aggies tried to break up our momentum by scoring a goal a minute and a half later. The third quarter ended with the score two to one our favor.

The fourth quarter opened excitingly with a goal in the first five minutes by Jim Bear. The Aggies fought back hard and scored ten minutes later. The Broncos took the game away from the opponents again and Jim Bear scored again one minute before the end of the game. As the game ended the crowd

Open Soccer Season

Delhi Tech opened its soccer season Saturday, September 30, against Morrisville Tech.

Coach Reither's Broncos are really hustling for first string berths. He feels they will improve considerably over their '66 season record of two wins and seven losses.

The remaining soccer schedule is as follows:

Oct. 14, Auburn Community College, Home—1 p.m.

Oct. 21, Cobleskill Ag. & Tech., Away—1 p.m.

Oct. 24—Hudson Community College, Home—4 p.m.

Oct. 28, Mohawk Community College, Home—1 p.m.

Oct. 30, Oneonta J. V., Home—3 p.m.

Nov. 7, Keystone Junior College, Home—2:30 p.m.

Rally at Brookside

The Delhi Soccer and Cross Country teams kicked off their seasons with a pep rally at Brookside field on Friday night, September 29th. The student body that did turn out was small but they made enough noise to spur the "Stony Ridge Boys" (our soccer team) on to victory. The soccer team was introduced by their coach, Glen Reither. The cross country team was also introduced by their coach, Robert Jones.

There was a slight delay in the evenings activities because of the weather. The wood for the fire was wet from the days rain and so it was hard to get the fire started. The crowd rallied round the fire and started cheering for the victory which came the next day. After the fire was started the Morrisville "Aggies" were burned in effigy. The cheerleaders kept things going by starting a cheering contest between the freshmen and the seniors. It is almost needless to say that the contest was declared a draw.

All in all it was a pretty good pep rally because it accomplished its purpose via a 4-2 Bronco victory over Morrisville.
