Are Plastics Poisoning My Food?

By: Daniel Klossner, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Chemistry

For as much as Americans love to use plastic for just about every purpose, there sure is a lot of hype lately (and for the past ten years or so) questioning whether plastic products are exposing humans to dangerous chemicals in our food. Recycling efforts to reuse plastic containers have additionally intensified this concern because of the belief that plastic releases harmful substances as it ages.

However, that is not the only worry that concerns consumers, and here is a short list of some of the other rumors floating around: "plastic food wrap is made with harmful phthalates," "using plastics in the microwave creates harmful dioxins that can migrate into food," and "reusing plastic beverage bottles causes harmful chemicals to leach into water." Before jumping to conclusions, we should explore whether these allegations are merely untruthful rumors or trustworthy statements based on factual information.

New Roles & New Faces at SUNY

Dean Nader To Be New Provost

Dr. John S. Nader of Oneonta, who has served as dean of the Liberal Arts and Sciences Division at SUNY Delhi since 2001, will assume the position of college Provost, effective January 2010. His selection follows a nationwide search for a successor to Dennis Callas, who is retiring next year following a distinguished 36-year academic career.

Chancellor Zimpher First Woman

Dr. Nancy L. Zimpher, will become the 12th and the first woman to be named chancellor in SUNY's 60-year history. Currently President of the University of Cincinnati, her appointment is effective June 2009. Dr. Zimpher was unanimously named to her new position after a nation-wide search. She plans to visit each of the 64 SUNY campuses over the summer and cites "student advocacy" as a top priority.

In the foot steps of a legend

Cooking in McLaughlin Hall with America's Finest

By: Tom Recinella, CEC, AAC

I recently found myself experiencing something that I had only heard of but had never seen, The 34th Annual Army Culinary Competition held at Fort Lee, Virginia.

After only being there a short time I realized very quickly that not enough American Culinary Federation (ACF) members know about this amazing event that goes on every year. It's my goal to change that.

Letter From The Editor

By YVONNE WOOD

In the past few weeks I've noticed a common theme of increasing violence and traumatic events throughout the world. Whether it's a close friend receiving scary medical news, the levels of domestic violence and unemployment on the rise nationally, or a public shooting in Binghamton that left many close to home without their lives....

It leaves one wondering why?

What is causing so many of us to lash out with such violence? More than likely, there are many probable causes and a combination of them all is the culprit. What I worry about more than why, is how this trauma is affecting us as individuals. Could humans be losing their hope in a big domino effect? With all of this negativity are we losing sight of the good things in life? Because I personally have a lot of hope for the future of mankind and this beautiful planet Earth we call home.

This special edition of the Campus Voice is filled with hope and I encourage you to GO ONLINE AND

CRAZY GEORGE'S RANT

By George Udovich

FREEDOM

If any of you keep track of my articles (which I doubt because all of you have better things to do), you would know I supported Ron Paul in the Republican Primary and voted for the Libertarian Party during last year's general election. According to the Missouri Highway Patrol and the Missouri Information Analysis Center, because of my actions, voting for those particular candidates, I'm now considered a "domestic terrorist"!

Interesting, I thought this was a free country, I could vote for whom I wanted without being considered a terrorist or a traitor to my country. Who would have thought it, that a conservative/libertarian would be considered a terrorist? The list also includes people who might exercise their second amendment rights, and own a gun.

This reminds me of what took place in this country before the Civil War when pro-slavery elements threatened to break the country up if a Republican was elected. This happened in 1860, but even more so in countries like the former USSR, and the Weimar Republic in Germany towards its end.

Dissidence was silenced, the right to vote was squashed and both countries went down the road of tyranny and evil. These countries smashed human rights, committed atrocities of unimaginable levels, and ended in failure; one through war, and the other through an economic meltdown which took one of the richest nations and made it a third world country.

I do have good news; Missouri officials have now retracted the report of the Information Analysis Center. Still, that leaves me wondering, what could happen next time? Will another outcry be effective, like in Missouri this time? Will New York be a state government trying to impede my rights, or will it be the federal government?

America is indeed the home of the free and the land of the brave. But for how much longer?

Do's & Don'ts

By: Caitlin Hefner and Traci Upton

DO!

THINK GREEN. Do your part and make this environment beautiful for our children.

DON'T!

Wear flip flops when it's raining outside. Your feet get really muddy and gross. Bust out your rain boots for the April showers.

DO!

Use protection. Foreman Hall has a plethora of male condoms, female condoms, and dental dams FOR FREE!! If you slip between her thighs, condomize.

DON'T!

Misjudge mother nature. Just because you look out your window and the sun is shining does not mean that there isn't a -0 wind chill. Check out the weather channel.

DO!

Wear bright colors during the spring semester. It will bring out your inner shine and happiness all around

DON'T!

Forget to vote during the Student Senate Elections. Vote for the candidates that you think will make Delhi the shit.
