

Cover Story

With the upgrade to Aleph V.18, the OLIS is offering online training via Angel, the course management application. The first offerings are in support of the upgrade and more classes will be developed after the upgrade is complete.

Features

The training model is still "train the trainer." The instructional materials in Angel can be downloaded and edited by campus trainers to support campus-specific training needs.

The designated Aleph contact is pre-registered for all available OLIS training modules in Angel. The contact's "student" username and password information was, or will be, provided to the campus in the package of v.18 upgrade materials. If an additional Angel student account is needed, that request can be made via Footprints.
