A Granddaughter’s Onus

By: Deborah Katz

I stand as witness for my grandparents life story joy, pain, what keeps?
Germany, Poland,
Austria, and Germany
I’m American
what stories are told to the next generation which lessons are taught such limited time
so many stories to pick l’dor v’dor
Buchenwald the place
a father taken, stolen
heart broken, pain and disease bat mitzvah party
apt descriptions: fun, loud, proud my experience
Opa’s day long ago
ended in shock and despair
the guests arrested
what is kept, preserved the pain to fear or the strength to emulate now
more than history
my Shoah lessons point out genocide is now
father, grandfather
son, daughter, sister, brother mother, grandmother
friend, neighbor, peer, all lost through death, fear, choice how was it rebuilt?
what can stand on a
foundation of ashes, tears let’s discover now here, everywhere we need to learn the past so that a brighter future
is built over pain
not forgetting but learning a new way forward
