GRADUATE CURRICULUM AND POLICIES COMMITTEE

RESOLUTION ON FULL-TIME STATUS

WHEREAS graduate students in several programs are required to complete extensive internship/practicum experiences in addition to credit bearing courses, and

WHEREAS financial aid stipulations do not presently recognize these mandated experiences as a full-time programmatic schedule,

THEREFORE be it resolved that item 2 of the definition of a full-time graduate student (p. 17, Graduate Studies, 1989-91) be amended to read as follows:

- 2) is registered for nine graduate credits per semester with an assistantship or an internship/practicum experience which requires at least 15 contact hours per week, or

Present wording (for reference)

Definition of a Full-Time Graduate Student

A full-time graduate student at Brockport is one who:

- 1) is registered for 12 graduate credits per semester, or
- 2) is registered for nine graduate credits per semester with an assistantship or graduate resident directorship, or
- 3) is engaged in full-time thesis research which:
 - a) is part of an approved program of study,
 - b) requires effort which is the equivalent in Carnegie units of 12 credits of work,
 - c) has in his or her departmental file a letter from the department chairperson or graduate program coordinator, indicating that said student is engaged in full-time thesis research for each semester or comparable summer period.
