the benefit of others. Representatives of the State Hospital will be at the Institute on Friday, December 23, to accept our Christmas contributions.

Begin now to collect and bring in your share of our first Christmas project!

CADET LIBRARIAN HERE FROM GENESEO COLLEGE

Have you noticed that we have an addition in our library?

She is Elizabeth Horek, a senior at Geneseo State Teachers College, and is taking a general course but is majoring in library science. Her home town is Niagara Falls, from which she commutes each day to BSTI. Miss Horek was graduated from Lasalle High School in Niagara Falls, class of 1946.

Miss Horek said that there certainly is a difference between Geneseo and BSTI. She is much impressed with our school, especially with the idea of cooperative training which is similar to what she is doing here at BSTI.

Miss Horek, who graduates in June, wants to go into an industrial library in one of the nearby plants. She has already had experience in the business world when she was employed for a period of time at the Carborundum Company. And, of interest to the optical department, at one time she worked as a receptionist for an optometrist.

She chose our school for her six-weeks off-campus training period because of the industrial contacts that BSTI has.

MARIANI ’50 PRESIDENT; THURSTON REPEATS WIN

When the ballots were counted last Friday, Vince Mariani became president of the Class of 1950. Bob Renza is vice president; Joyce Carlson is secretary; and Dick Thurston is treasurer of the senior class, as he was of the junior class last year. Dick was a write-in candidate last year.

Seniors out of school on cooperative training were sent their ballots by mail. Red O’Neill, president of the Student Council, presided at the nomination meeting, at the introduction of candidates in assembly, and arranged the ballotting.

addition. Especially from the boys....! Another thing about the jukebox, why don’t we all try to pitch in for some records so that we will have the popular ones?

The most fitting way to end this column is just like the ending in ‘The Night Before Christmas’... ‘Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night.”

THE INSTITOOTER

by Howie Mandelli

The latest ‘Hooper Poll’ shows that nine out of ten Santa Clauses prefer reindeers to ‘Camels’.

It’s been getting so cold lately that the boys cold in Buffalo lately that the boys from the Institute have been walking around with their hands in their own pockets!

If the present ‘basket-ball court’ were a little larger we could correct it into an A number one billiard table.

One Student Council representative reminds us to get our Christmas Dance tickets right now as they are going fast. Only 20 left out of the original twenty three.

We have all heard of ‘Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer’. B-2 has corralled another of Santa’s sled pullers, ‘Crow Caller the Brown Nose Reindeer.’

IMPORTANT!... The following insert was omitted from the ELECTRICAL HANDBOOK:

Method for determining the presence of an electric current:

Place both feet firmly on the ground, wet fingers, grasp end of exposed wire. If a negative reaction occurs, (gold running from your teeth, for example) you may assume an electric current is present.

PREDICTION OF THINGS TO COME

Santa Claus will leave Mr. Benzinger a new ‘Champ’ for Christmas. (Providing he is a good boy) representatives for $1.80 per couple. Alumni can obtain tickets at the door.

Weatherman Barny Wiggins will be replaced by a ‘Wiggi Board’.

The Christmas Dance has been the most talked of social event in BSTI, so fellows, why not pick your girl, dig into your pocket for $1.80, and join the alumni, faculty, and other students Friday night at Kleinhans Music Hall?

CHARLOTTE DIXON LEADS NEW CLUB FOR WOMEN

For women students a new club called the Buffalo Betas has been organized at BSTI. Officers include Charlotte Dixon, pres.; Patricia Clark, vice-pres.; Patricia McGuire, secretary; Phyllis Netley, treasurer; and Rita Willert, Sargent-at-arms.

‘The new club has at least three purposes. It will work for social improvements at BSTI; it will serve to promote life friendships of women students; it will strive to uphold moral standards, and will have as its immediate object, the improvement and entertainment of its members,’ said Charlotte today.

OUTSTANDING CHEMIST WILL RECEIVE AWARD

When the junior industrial chemists came into BSTI last September, they knew that an achievement award would be given to the outstanding junior in General Chemistry I.

’They all have been working hard since they came in,’ said Mr. Heubusch. The winner will receive from The Chemical Rubber Co. a ‘Chemistry and Physics Handbook’. Mr. Billings, head of the department, said that the handbook would be inscribed in gold with the name of the award winner and the name of the school.

‘These are national awards, and this is the first time they have been given,’ said Mr. Billings.

Sant will have a hard time finding the Institute with all the chimneys in our neighborhood.
