

Published by the students of the Buffalo State Technical Institute, State University of New York

EDITOR.....A. Vince Mariani
 ART EDITOR.....Joseph A. LiPira
 BUSINESS MANAGER.....Lois Hickok
 SPORTS EDITOR.....Herbert Wurstner
 VARI-TYPISTS.....Fedora Tonello, Helen Van Pelt
 ART EDITOR.....Dorothy J. Arbogast
 SPORTS EDITOR.....Paul Paladino
 EXCHANGE—Dolores Cotton, Chairman; Nina Beckwith
 Edward Kowalski, Mary Almeter, Mary Hardy, Barbara McGee.
 Farino, Nanette Sweetland, Rita Lang, Howard Mandell,
 Joseph M. Stevens, John Volk, Martin Gensci, Valerian Ruminiski, Duane Vaughan, Janet A. Schopf.

A GOOD JOB!

While Red O'Neill was out on co-op, Bernie Pawlowski was acting president of Student Council, as you all know.

We want to go on record, Bernie, to say you did a fine job. Under your administration, there was the Valentine Dance, the pep rally for the annual homecoming game, and various plans for forthcoming events, like the Splash party, the NSA variety show, and the moving-up day plans.

There were also various investigations carried on—the investigation into cafeteria prices, into bookstore procedure, into the BTI News, and the Arrow—all in the cause of increased student morale.

We of the staff of the BTI News in particular want to congratulate you on a good job. In fact, owe this new garb directly to you. We owe to you our new weekly plan of publication, and we owe to you support in collecting and disseminating news. Thank you.

THANKS TO BOTH OF YOU!

Mr. Dry is rapidly recovering his strength. He's got that twinkle back in his eyes, and will soon be home from the hospital.

Ever since Dr. and Mrs. Skinner came to the Institute to develop the Dental Hygiene department, they have done more than their share, not only for DH, but for the Institute and all of the students.

If there are chaperones needed for a dance, it's likely to be the Skinners who are asked. And they come. If the basketball team takes a trip, the Skinners chaperone, and Dr. Skinner takes care of first aid, too. If it's dressing up for a costume party, the Skinners have more fun than anyone else. If it's a new idea that will benefit everyone, the Skinners probably had a finger in it somewhere!

Pleasant, cordial, interested in the welfare of every BSTI student, the Skinners are an indispensable part of every school activity.

And that goes for Mr. X, and Mrs. Y, and Miss Z, and all the other staff members—all 54 of them—but we can't name them all, so before we get ourselves into serious editorial trouble, let's just say BSTI has a great staff!

THE INSTITOOTER

By Howie Mandell, B-2

With rumors that half a score of undersized geeks—reportedly invaders from the planet Mercury—were found in a cracked-up “flying disc,” the Food Service Administration department has been busy designing enticing food combinations as a peace offering to the raiders from outer-space. And can they concoct Mercurians or no Mercurians enticing food combinations? We'll say they can! The Dental Hy-geniuses have also been sharpening up on their instruments and their techniques, especially since they heard that the Mercurians each had a total of 370 teeth in their gargoye-like heads.

In the next few weeks you may suffer from the impression that good old BSTI has become an annex for Buffalo state Hospital. If any student should suddenly give you the impression that he or she is decidedly eccentric, even a little touched, please remember that pledge weeks are coming up. Umh-huh, we have not only a new national fraternity for men, but also the women have their charter for their new state fraternity. (Advertising plug—see page 3!)

From Wayne Kates, M-1 (by the way, thanks, Wayne).

Two of Mr. Peacock's students were overheard talking about “energy in small packages” and “curves.” The eavesdropper was disgusted to learn that all they were talking about was some factors in Einstein's theory of relativity.

And from Louis Tucci and John Carpenter, both 0-2, we have:

A liberal arts graduate is a man who knows a great deal about very little and who goes along learning more and more about less and less until he knows practically everything about nothing.

A State Teachers College graduate on the other hand, is a man who knows very little about many things and keeps learning less and less about more and more until he know practically nothing about everything.

A BSTI graduate starts out knowing everything about everything but ends up knowing nothing about anything due to his association with teachers and liberal arts graduates.

All the senior executives staff are back from co-op now and we can promise you some more of those super-cartoons by Joe Lipira, as well as the newest news. See the BTI News next Tuesday. Better yet, get your news notes in this Friday for the March 14 issue.

And so “Auf Wiederseh’n”, that's German for “'till we meet again”; “Ben jour”, that's good day” in French; “H-bomb”, that's “good-bye” in any language.

Why were all of the mechanical boys reporting for interviews at Trico trying to get jobs in the plant library? And we thought they were all tired of books.