

STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK
College at Old Westbury

M E M O R A N D U M

19 February 1974

TO: The Faculty
FROM: Florence Howe
SUBJECT: Faculty Newsletter on the College

As you recall, several of us agreed to attempt to put together a newsletter, possibly to be called "The Riddle--of Human Justice," as quickly as possible, and as a faculty publication. Several of us have met, and it looks as though Roberta Salper, Luis Camnitzer, and I will take responsibility for the issue. We have had several offers from contributors and now plan a 12-page newsletter with the following types of articles:

1. on faculty cutbacks
2. on the master plan(s)
3. on the history of the college
4. on the backgrounds of the teaching and nonteaching staffs
5. on what happens to graduates of O.W.
6. on what "interdisciplinary" means
7. on the campus as a microcosm of society; on fulfilling the mandate
8. a satire on administration at Old Westbury

If you see obvious gaps and should like to volunteer to write additional essays, please let us know.

Assignments as of Friday, Feb. 22

All articles due typed double-spaced (two copies: one to Howe, other to Salper)
March 4
Editing completed March 8
To typesetter March 8
To printer March 15
Available for distribution March 18

You may be interested to know that we plan a 12-page issue, four pages of which will be filled with pictures of the faculty and cartoons and drawings. We hope that everyone will be cooperative with the photography students who will be coming around to see people.
