

SUNY Strategies

SCLD

Cover Story

A number of SUNY strategic planning processes are underway. These include Chancellor Zimpher's university-wide efforts as well as ongoing strategic plans related to the SUNY libraries in particular.

Focus on SUNY Libraries

Features

The chancellor is conducting extensive conversations focused on particular strategic themes. Those themes for SUNY are Ensuring Economic Vitality and Quality of Life, Education Pipeline, Arts and Culture, Diversity in the World, Energy and Sustainability, Quality of Place, Health Affairs.

ScienceDirect Agreement

SUNY P.O.D.

The public is invited to participate in these conversations. And, the "Group of 200" Delegates are urged to be involved in as many as possible. Fashion Institute of Technology Library Director N.J. Wolfe is a member of that group.

SUNY Strategies

SUNYConnect Updates

The chancellor has indicated that working groups will be formed around strategic infrastructure issues. Those issues are 5-year budgeting process/flexibility, brand prestige, implementation of RF strategic plan/research and innovation, information technology, innovative instructional opportunities, library access, leadership development, strategic enrollment management, student mobility, underrepresented populations. Assistant Provost for Library & Information Services and Director of the SUNY Learning Network, Carey Hatch has been asked to co-chair the library access group.

How to Contact Us

Linkable Links

The SUNY library planning process will provide input and ideas for the working group. These efforts have reached many groups. Various strategic planning working documents can be found at the SCLD web site. The S.A.C., SCLD and SUNYLA input to the planning process is included.

S.A.C. has also asked Steve Roberts (Buffalo) to put together a white paper on specific SUNY library strategies. Following that, a series of webinars are planned to gain additional comments from members of the SUNY library community.

With all of this is the hope that SUNY libraries will be included in the "big hairy audacious goals" the chancellor has for the State University of New York.

Cover Story

Features

Features

Focus on SUNY Libraries

SUNY P.O.D.

SUNYConnect Updates

How to Contact Us

ScienceDirect Agreement

SUNY Strategies

Linkable Links

