02. Hosp/HSC Admin Announcements

1. March is National Colorectal Cancer Awareness Month

It's important for you to know ...

Colorectal cancer can be prevented. Not only that, it is extremely curable if caught early. No matter what your age, know the risk factors, know the symptoms, and know your family history.

Starting at age 50, men and women who are at average risk for colorectal cancer should get screened. Men and women who have a higher risk of the disease may need to be tested earlier and should talk to their doctor about when.

Colorectal cancer is treatable - know your options.

To make an appointment with our colorectal specialists, Drs. M. Corman, D. Rivadeneira, and W. Smithy, call 631-444-4545

3. A Gathering of Science Scholars II

The Center for Inclusive Education will host a national conference that will highlight the research accomplishments of underrepresented science students, both undergraduate and graduate, and the success of the myriad of diversity programs that promote their academic achievements and encourage the pursuit of a career in the professoriate. The conference will feature nationally recognized leaders in minority science education, skill-building workshops, a research symposium competition of science posters, and a networking session/career fair. Last year, our inaugural conference yielded 300 participants with over 200 students from 21 institutions throughout New York State and more than 90 research posters. This will be an exciting event and we encourage the participation of students, faculty and university staff. Please refer to our website at <http://www.stonybrook.edu/agep> for more information, including the latest agenda, and to register on-line. We hope you will join us for this special event.

4. Who is the Master Puppeteer? Find out on Monday, March 14

Your favorite quarterback makes a miracle throw while dodging a 300-pound lineman-is the play's success due to pure athletic skill? Good luck? Or could the quarterback's subconscious memory be controlling the play? Daniel Wolpert, Ph.D., Professor of Motor Neuroscience and Co-Director of the Institute of Movement Neuroscience, University College London, will explain just how the brain controls motor performance and why computers will never be able to compete with human dexterity.

Join us for "The Master Puppeteer: How the Brain Controls the Body," on Monday, March 14 at 4:30 p.m. in the Staller Center for the Arts.

The lecture is free and intended for a general audience. A reception will follow the talk.

06. Charitable (Habitat, Blood drives, Cats, etc...)

1. Help Stem The Population Of Feral Cats On Campus

The SBU Cat Network works to humanely trap, neuter, vaccinate, and care for the many feral cats that live on campus. Capturing kittens often means they can be socialized and placed in homes. Capturing older cats means they can be spayed/neutered to avoid the birth of more cats who must fend for themselves outside. If you're interested in helping, please contact Nancy Franklin (nancy.franklin@sunysb.edu).

5. Chinese Martial Arts Film Series: Fists of Fury (The Chinese Connection) Tuesday, March 1, 7:00 p.m. Wang Center Theater

In the early 1900s, the Chinese martial arts student Chen Zhen avenges his master Huo Yuanjia's mysterious death. Of the many fictionalized versions of this real story, Fists of Fury is by far the most famous, with its iconic Chinese nationalist imagery (No more "No Dogs or Chinese Allowed!") and the amazing screen presence of its equally iconic star Bruce Lee. Keep your eyes open for a very young Jackie Chan as one of the martial arts students! (Lo Wei, 1972, 102 min., Cantonese with English subtitles)

6. Pakeezah (Pure Heart) Wednesday, March 2, Wang Center Theatre., 7:00 p.m

Nargis (Meena Kumari) who was raised in a brothel grows up to become a beautiful and popular dancer/singer Sahibjaan. Aristocratic Salim Ahmed Khan (Raaj Kumar) is enthralled by Sahibjaan's beauty and innocence, and eventually convinces her to elope with him. But trials and tribulations await Sahibjaan as she is recognized by men wherever she goes in the company of Salim. Exquisitely photographed on elaborate sets, the movie won a Filmfare award for its art direction. It contains song-and-dance sequences that become an integral part of the story. ### 2. A Chance to be Heard Disability Support Services, in collaboration with Student Health Services-CHOICE Center and the Theatre Department, is interested in getting written examples/stories of how Stony Brook students, faculty, and/or staff have been affected by their own or someone else's disability. Contributors are asked to include specific incidents, experiences and feelings that are remembered as being positive or negative. The information will be used to develop short skits which will be part of a live performance aimed at educating the Stony Brook community. Contributors will remain anonymous. If you are interested in contributing, please contact Stephanie Patterson at 2-6748. She will discuss all the details. We hope that you will be able to participate in this activity and look forward to your response. Thanks!
