

By: John Reheuser

What if Shakespeare had had a refrigerator at work and wanted to keep people from stealing his lunch? He might have taped a note on his lunchbox....

Friend, for the LORD'S SAKE forebear,
To partake of food encloses here.
Bless'd be the man who allows me to sup,
And curst be he who eats it up!