

Mandi E. Clegg

Darcey Anne Farrow's Collection

I know this child
She is funny and sweet
She can tell jokes and has a great laugh
She has a pure heart and a great soul
When I am with her, all the world is a picnic
But she doesn't come out much

Dear Sister

always there for me

I will be here for you.

you are entirely gone

And we are here to linger on.

I know this girl
She is smart and witty
She can hold her own in an argument
She is passionate, fiercely loyal to her loved ones
And she can be one hell of a bitch when she is mad
I see her a bit more often

To do things in the honor of your name things will never be the same limited

At such a young age

At such a young stage

Not much time to get things done

Now you will live under the sun.

by songs sung about rainbows what is on the other side.

I know a woman
Who has been burned
Her skin bears the burden her mind couldn't tell She loved with the fire of the sun
And the package came back undeliverable She visits the most

I love you sweet sister where ever you are will remain

Dear in my heart

Never to ever be forgotten.

I have this friend
She loves to sing, though she is often off tune
She moves to the beat of any song
She is flirtatious and sexy
And she loves to party I don't see her as often as I'd like in parting from us has brought us a river of tears with no relief from our grief

Our comfort derives

As we realize you can fly over mountains

And soar with eagles

The golden wings with which

You can now take flight

Are as light as a feather

May eternal peace be yours

Would you like to meet them?
I could arrange an introduction
All you have to do is stop Stop seeing me as only a fat girl on the outside
