

Council Supports Viet Nam — Will You?

Will you the students of Broome Technical Community College support the United States' policy in Viet Nam? The Student Council is awaiting an affirmative answer on your position.

Vice-President Maurice Battisti has organized a Welfare Committee for this project and will present the facts before the student body at a convocation which is now in the planning.

This committee is tired of reading about the foes of the United States within the United States. They want to prove to our boys that we are behind them. They want to prove to our boys that they are not fighting a losing battle and that they are not dying in vain.

If this committee obtains your support, its members will immediately write to the President of the United States. They will immediately send CARE packages to our boys over there, and they will organize a contest among all of the Junior Colleges in New York State to elect a "JUNIOR COLLEGE SWEETHEART" for the boys in Viet Nam.

To show the Vietnamese that we care about them, also, President Dick Leahy is looking into the possibility of "adopting" a Vietnamese child through Student Council funds. This means giving financial support to a child for a specified length of time. WON'T YOU SAY YES?

King Tech-Vote Today, Dance Tomorrow

Balloting In SUB Lobby All Day

Today the entire student body will be voting for their favorite candidate in connection with the King Tech Crowning and Dance, which is to be held tomorrow evening from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Student Center. To enable you to be more familiar with each candidate, a brief summary of his personality and qualifications are being presented.

William Connelly
"Bill"

A 21-year-old Business Senior, who is a graduate of Chenango Valley Junior-Senior High School, majoring in marketing, Bill is kept busy not only with grades, but by being the captain of the soccer team, goalie on the soccer team, nominee to the All-Star Team, TECH TALK reporter, member of Business Club and the Athletic Board of Control, and representative to Student Council.

To give you an idea of Bill's manner of thinking, he honestly believes that the senior class is "the best one this school has ever had". He feels that the class as a whole has worked out more difficulties more successfully than any class could hope for.

Bill also stated that "I will back all the way" Broome Tech's supporting the United States' policy in Viet Nam.

Outstanding physical features of Mr. Connelly are: height, 6-ft. 4-in.; weight, 185 lbs.; brown hair and brown eyes.

Bill's opinion of King Tech is that the winner should remember that he's king for all year — not just for one night.

R. Patrick Curry
"Pat"

President of the Business Club, Chairman of the Publications Committee of the Senior Class, member of the Executive Committee and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, representative to Student Council and a musician in the Moe B Combo, Pat Curry is a 22-year-old marketing major who graduated from Seton High School in 1961.

Pat is a 5-ft. 8-in., 145 lb., hazel-eyed and brown-haired young man, who hopes to continue his education after his graduation from Broome Tech.

Pat thinks that the senior class is as "fine a group of students as could be, and of which I am very proud to belong."

Concerning Broome Tech and the U.S. in Viet Nam, Pat stated, "Yes, I encourage it and I hope every student feels the same."

When Pat was informed that he was elected a candidate for King Tech, he stated that he felt "very honored" and "very lucky."

Dick Leahy

John Richard Leahy

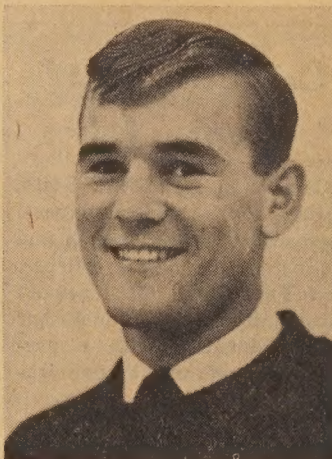

"Dick"

Twenty year old Dick Leahy is a graduate of Chenango Valley Junior-Senior High School and a Business Administration major here at Broome.

Dick is the president of our Student Council and is a member of the Newman Club. He also has a part-time job at Fowler's Department Store. In the future, Dick hopes to attend the University of Buffalo.

His comment on his candidacy for King Tech was "I'm quite a bit surprised". He believes that the Senior Class has a lot more unity than classes in previous years. He also thinks that Broome Tech's stand on the Viet Nam policy is a "very good idea."

Dick stands 5-ft. 11-in. tall, weighs 170 lbs, has hazel eyes and brown hair.

Daniel Little
"Danny"

A 19-year-old Business Senior majoring in Marketing, Dan plans on working full time at Howard's Florist and Garden Center after graduation from Broome Tech, and then to marry Miss Jean Rose in September of '66.

Dan, a graduate of Vestal Central High School, is President of the Senior Class and Executive Committee. His opinion of the senior class is "tremendous! It'll be a long time before a class will beat this one." Dan backs the United States policy in Viet Nam "all the way."

Danny is 5-ft. 10-in. tall, weighs 168 lbs., has blue eyes and blond hair.

He feels that an individual should be elected as King for what he is, not what he should be.

Peter Piza
"Pete"

Pete is a 19-year-old Business Senior and graduate of Chenango Valley Junior-Senior High School. He is a member of the Business Club and the senior class executive committee. Pete is the only member of the committee who has participated all the way from the steering committee up to now. He is now helping the freshman class in organizing their steering committee. Pete also holds a part-time job at Loblaws.

Peter is "In favor of the Viet Nam decision — completely." He also feels that the senior class has "a lot of spirit in it. The kids work together a lot better than last year".

Pete is 6-ft. 2-in. tall, weighs 185 lbs., has brown hair and green eyes.

Queen of Hearts To Crown King Tech

Miss Judy Still, the reigning Queen of Hearts, is expected to crown the newly-elected King Tech tomorrow night at 11. Judy was elected Queen last February and is a graduate of the Medical Office curriculum. She will be escorted by her fiancé, Bob Larkin, who is a graduate of Broome Tech and a present staff member here.

Mr. Thomas Heslin, the reigning King Tech, is now a student at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College in Pennsylvania. As most of you know, Tom was a star basketball player for Tech, and he is now one for East Stroudsburg. Because of a previously scheduled game, Tom must play tomorrow night and will be unable to attend the crowning. He expressed his regret in not being able to attend.

'Carousel' Theme for Dance in Gym

Broome's biggest event of the year will take place tomorrow night, November 13, in the S.U.B. from 8 to 12.

The musical talents of Maurice Battisti — "Moe B" and his Combo — will provide the orchestral accompaniment. This alone will ensure a memorable occasion for all. Complementing the musical attractions are the creative talents of Jim Walker and Connie Lawrio of the Decoration Committee. Their committee will transform the vastness of the gymnasium into the intimate quaintness of an old fashioned park. This year's theme is entitled, "King Carousel". Its center of attraction will be a romantic merry-go-round enveloping the dance floor.

The highlight of the dance will be the traditional crowning of a senior boy as King Tech. The final election will be held in the Student Union Building today. Each student should make it his responsibility to vote for the candidate of his choice.

The Senior Class Executive Committee has appointed the following chairmen to head the various committees:

Balloting: Mary Jo Zemek and Joan Russell.

Crowning: Mary Jo Zemek, chairman and Butch Blochburger.

Publicity: Pat Curry, Pat Mann, Carol Evans, Moe Battisti, Kathy Reynolds.

Decorations: Connie Lawrio, chairman and Jim Walker, co-chairman.

EDITORIAL - Support U. S. in Viet Nam

At the November 3 Student Council meeting, Vice-President Battisti presented some "garbage" material that was sent to President Leahy of Student Council. This material urged the students to NOT support the United States' stand in Viet Nam.

Recently, I, too, have received such disgusting material. President Leahy's material was from a German organization. Germany would support such a stand because at the present time some of our best troops are in Germany. They are liable to be withdrawn from that country and be sent to Viet Nam.

My material was from some agency in Binghamton. Why they are against our stand, I do not know.

At the Council meeting, the representatives decided it was about time someone did something about these irrational actions.

The Council will put the idea to support the United States' policy in Viet Nam before the Student Body. If the student body will support the Council's stand, the Council intends to submit a letter to the President of the United States, and to hold a blood drive open to the entire community as well as to the students. All of the blood will be sent to Viet Nam.

We are urging every student to support the United States' stand in Viet Nam and the Student Council's feelings. This is an opportunity for Broome Tech students not only to do something for our country, but also to obtain publicity for the college for performing an act that is constructive and civilized.

Letter To Editor

Houghton, Michigan

Dear Editor,

I was pleased to hear of the overwhelming success of the recent activities fair at Broome Tech. This was certainly an impressive first step towards bringing more students into the active community at Tech.

Congratulations are certainly in order for Mr. Dan Little and Mr. Dick Leahy for the outstanding leadership which they have brought to Broome Tech. I urge every student to support these two men as they guide the government and social activities of the college through the coming year. Men with this degree and quality of leadership ability are definitely rare. It would be a great loss to each individual of the college community if they were not supported in their efforts.

Sincerely,
John Norieka —65

EDITORIAL

by Mary Jo Zemek

Today is voting day for the 1966 King of Broome Tech. Tomorrow evening is the dance. It is being presented through the diligent planning and arduous work of the Senior Class. Because of this, the ideas, decorations and format of the dance will be constructive, and pleasing, but will the dance be a success?

This question will be answered solely by the student body. If an indication of the success lies in some of the recent remarks and actions of a small elite group of male students—the success is already doomed. But I don't believe this situation will come about.

This small group seems to think the whole process of crowning a King is a farce. The real truth is that they are the farce. To the few students whose warped minds function in such a manner, we say that we consider your actions as being rude and inane.

It is fortunate for this college that the majority of students have the maturity and the common sense that is necessary to make campus happenings a success.

EDITORIAL

by Mary Jo Zemek

Last week a dinner meeting was called between certain members of the Board of Trustees and the Board of Supervisors, and the Editorial staff of TECH TALK, Senior Class officers and Student Council officers. The men representing the Trustees were Mr. Wales and Mr. Gitlitz. Representing the supervisors were Mr. Hawver, Mr. Niles, Mr. Prew, and Mr. Ridley. Other individuals present were Mr. Behr, Dean Chambers, Mr. Konowalow, and President Tyrrell.

This meeting was called to better orientate the represented individuals with each other's area of interest in the college. It is a well known fact that the Board of Supervisors has not been very popular with various students on our campus. They wanted to know why and we wanted to tell them. Everything was discussed from staff salaries to the book store.

Mr. Darwin Wales was acting spokesman for the group of six and I was very impressed with him. Maybe I feel this way because he had the most to say or because he seemed to know the most of anyone present. He used discretion in his comments and he was not flippant in his tone of voice.

I attended the meeting from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. and asked Mr. Ridley one question. It concerned his Business school and a conflict of interest. His reply? He would not answer me because he felt it was his PERSONAL business. He had nothing else to comment on anything the entire period that I was there. I was disappointed. He did not know that I had to leave early. I understand that he had much to say after I had departed.

I feel that Mr. Gitlitz and Mr. Niles had many good points to present and I respect all who listened intently to the students' point of view.

We believe that in the future more dinner meetings must be held. All topics, if willing to be discussed, can be brought into the open. Intelligent relationships can be built instead of torn down. Not only our class is interested, but future classes as well, I'm sure.

Must one criticize publicly and stir tempers before something such as this dinner meeting is called?

Letter To Editor

November 2, 1965

Dear Editor:

We of the editorial staff of the ENTRICITY HERALD feel that the freshman girls here at Niagara County Community College are prettier than your frosh co-eds, or those of any other school in the state. To substantiate this statement we will run pictures of nine of our frosh in our first edition, and will continue to print different pictures in subsequent issues.

Certainly you will wish to dispute our claim, and we are looking forward to receiving your letters of protest and indignation, but we would also like to see evidence of any counter-claims that you may assert.

Look around your campus, and then at our paper, and we are certain that you will see that we are justified in our claim.

Sincerely yours,
C. R. Corwan

Ponder This Quote:

"The profound transformations that are overtaking the world as we have known it demand a far broader conception of the university's role . . . An adequate perspective must include the old cultures and new nations outside the familiar landscape of North America and Western Europe."

Camera Club Apologizes

The Camera Club has expressed its regret that Mr. William Whitaker was unable to speak before the club on the techniques of modeling Nov. 3.

He will, however, come and demonstrate these techniques on Wed., Nov. 17, at 4:30 in T103, the music room. This meeting is open to ALL students and faculty.

Well, they solved the parking problem, but now how do you get it down?

Career Test Dec. 14

Careers in New York State, working for the government, are open to upperclassmen and graduates of two-year colleges. New York State offers you an opportunity for employment upon graduation with a progressive government organization.

Starting salaries range from $4,375-$5,800, with good annual raises.

Some of the positions offered are: computer operator, draftsman, electrical inspector, engineering technician, laboratory technician, occupational instructor, senior account clerk.

The positions to be offered are located throughout the state. Most are situated in Albany, but many state hospitals, institutions and departmental district offices also provide opportunities outside the capital district.

The Technician Careers Test will be given December 14 at a high school here. This is not necessarily a technical test, so students in other courses than technical ones may qualify.

The filing date is November 16. Mail applications to State Department of Civil Service, The State Campus, 1220 Washington Ave., Albany, New York, by that date.

This test is for seniors only, and brochures and applications may be picked up from Mr. Sitterlee in the Electrical Department.

Intercollegiate Debate Here Tomorrow

Seniors — Proof Problem Solved Here

Seniors, who want to order copies of their yearbook picture for Christmas-giving purposes, must return their proofs to the Jean Sardou Studio at McLean's Department Stores prior to Nov. 24.

Proofs of the pictures have been mailed out and representatives of the studio will be on campus Nov. 30 to accept the proofs back and to take orders from those students who wish to purchase photographs.

But that would be too late for pre-Christmas delivery, according to a studio spokesman. It was stressed, therefore, that anyone who wants to have pictures delivered before Christmas, should take his or her proofs to the studio before Nov. 24. A deposit will have to be made at the time the pictures are ordered.

This doesn't change the fact that there is no charge for a senior to have his or her picture in the Citadel. The charge and the deposit only apply to those who want to purchase additional pictures for their own purposes.

Any seniors who have not yet had their pictures taken for the yearbook, should phone the studio for an appointment — and they should phone next week. Nov. 19 is the deadline for Seniors who want their pictures in the yearbook.

If you have not made an appointment with the studio by then, you will not have your picture in the 1966 Citadel. The sole exception to this are the mechanical and electrical technology students, who are out on their co-op jobs.

Officers of Debate Society are Vice-President Gleason Snashall, Treasurer Susan Cramer, Secretary Pamela Gaffney, and President John Edgecombe.

LIBERAL ARTS OR LIBERAL SMARTS?

SUGGESTED DEPARTMENTALIZATION

Dis-orientation of the Liberal Arts and General Education Departments

The Debate Society will hold an inter-collegiate debate here tomorrow. The topic is :RESOLVED: that law enforcement agencies be given greater freedom in the investigation and prosecution of crime.

President of the Debate Society, John Edgecombe; and Mr. McGranaghan, the faculty advisor, have chosen Bernie Smith, Gleason Snashall, Maureen Park, Sue Cramer, Pam Gaffney, Geoff Seeley, Jo Anne Guion and Linda Hoover to represent us.

Colleges across the state will be represented. Acceptances have arrived from Syracuse, Long Island, and New York City. Teams will be judged mainly on their material and its effectiveness. Such points as poise and diction may also be taken into account.

There will be two men per team and each speaker will have his turn at the podium. Each part is timed and debater must adhere to time limits. The first affirmative begins with a limit of ten minutes.

Having the same time limit, the first negative, second affirmative, and second negative follow. All four speakers then will have five minutes of rebuttal time with the negative going first.

The debaters will register at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow. Later in the morning the participants will begin voicing their opinions under the critical eyes of the judges. After two rounds of morning debates the group will break for lunch where Sheriff Perhach will talk on "Search and Seizure."

The teams will then go back for the third round, and the judges will pick the top affirmative and negative teams. These two teams will debate in the Little Theatre to determine the outstanding one. A coffee get-together and presentation of awards will follow.

All Broome Tech students are cordially invited to watch this event.

?? Campus Quiz ??

To clarify some misconceptions around campus by the students and the faculty, TECH TALK'S article titled CAMPUS QUIZ, is not written by any one person on the staff. The questions are contributed by anyone who feels that the information may be interesting to the student body, or should be exposed.

1. What BT Senior goes around ripping dresses?
2. Joan of Arc is a what?
3. Is it alright if we put you on "Horses"?
4. What Chemistry teacher feels slighted by his former students?
5. What Student Council Rep. likes the fact that his wife earns more money?
6. What English teacher is going through Hell — with a map?
7. What King Tech candidate threatened to send the other four candidates letters requesting them to leave town Sat., Nov. 13?
8. What LA Senior boy swears he saw a certain LA Senior girl in a sideshow at the Afton Fair this summer — billed as the world's smallest stripper?
9. What English teacher digs through garbage cans in his spare time? (Hint — A fortune teller once told him he - would die at the age of 88.)

10. Who opens her mouth a lot — but nothing comes out?
11. Do you need a map of Hell? (See a World Lit. Student about one)
12. What Alco-Holic is planning the E.P. Christmas party?
13. What faculty member thinks it's more important to grade papers than to go to church on Sunday?
14. What M.T. Frosh said, "What was the name of the play by Shakespeare, where the guy married his mother and didn't know it?"
15. Did you know we have some important members in the Freshman Class? Ann Miller, Mary Martin, Jim Bishop, John Burns, William Hill, Norman Rockwell, George Mitchell. And a gentleman listed in the college register as — King, David.
16. Who lost their pants on the bus on the way home from a soccer trip?

Toujours Rien

by Michael Conant

Remember way back when it was considered quite unusual to have to park on the grass in back of the SUB? "Oh, bring back the good old days!"

Say, what ever became of that beautiful tree that used to grow in the middle of the quad? ? ?

Back to the parking problem for a minute. Weren't we supposed to have the "Field" blacktopped immediately? This is beginning to look like the North Shore Drive turn lane project. Well, maybe next year.

How about waiting until the convocation is finished before you run off to your next class or card game. I do not think that too many people from off-campus like to see half the students and faculty leave early, as if they were in church. The least you people could do would be to picket or maybe burn your draft card.

I wish that the weather would make up its mind as to what season it is. Why, my mother's rose bush still has some blooms on it! Should be good swimming weather by Christmas.

TEST QUESTION: How is it possible to open a half completed super-duper highway complete with police (city and county) and end up with a worse traffic problem than when they started? ? ? ?

Secretaries Go Executive

by Dave Starr

Does Broome Tech have a curriculum on Sex? Yes, but the spelling is a little different. There is a Sec's (Secretarial) course, in fact, two. The one we are interested in is the Executive Secretary.

This curriculum is relatively new to the Business Department, having been developed only two years ago. Originally all business students took the secretarial course, even the men. Of course the men objected and a non-secretarial option was formed.

The secretarial students were all taking courses in science and shop which some dainty little ladies just didn't like, so the Executive Secretarial option was developed.

This course was developed for the girls who wanted to work in legal offices, insurance companies and for general office dictation of an advanced level. They also take some L.A. (yeah) courses such as philosophy, economics and literature.

After graduation, jobs are available (and filled) at I.B.M., Link's and industry for work in the personnel departments and general administration with salaries of $65-$80 to start.

Miss Carol Evans practices her role as a future Executive Secretary.

Battisti Suggests that "We" Shape Up

by Maurice Battisti
It's about time we started analyzing our position in Southeast Asia. We're bogged down in that "mean, dirty war" on the Asiatic mainland that Dean Rusk warned against. West Germany is up in arms about the possible pullout of American troops destined for Vietnam.

Draft cards are going up in smoke as fast as cigars. We are embroiled in news of napalm, defoliation of forests, nauseous gas and burning of villages. American boys are being pulled out of classrooms to fight. American boys are dying.

American boys are being killed by American artillery.

In my opinion the United Nations and Southeast Asian Treaty Organization (SEATO) are the only alternatives to our self-imposed and single-handed attempt at Pan Americana.

The expressed purpose of SEATO, an eight-member defensive organization composed of Australia, France, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines, Thailand, the United Kingdom and the United States, is to prevent aggression against any of its member nations.

Its defensive capabilities are precisely tailored for this area. But most important of all, it gives us a chance to see what offensive action these collective defense agreements can undertake.

L.B.J. should call a meeting of the SEATO powers immediately to formulate deployment of troops, strategy of operations and a plan of attack.

The SEATO members will decide either to fight or flee. If they fight, a great burden will be taken from our shoulders.

The intervention of troops from Pakistan, Thailand and the Philippines will change the image of the war from one of quasi-imperialist white Western intervention to one of collective Southeast Asian action with no racial or colonialist overtones.

I realize that a plausible rebuttal to this program can be that this collective action would give the Viet Cong an excuse to ask for North Vietnamese and Red Chinese intervention. I have always felt that the sooner we look "Mao's devils" in the eye and call their bluff the better off we will be.

Time is on their side. We have the weapons to destroy them finally and ultimately.

The split between Russia and China is such that Russia wouldn't raise a finger to help "the Dragon."

Finally, if SEATO decides to flee, then we will have at least demonstrated that we consider this affair as an Asian problem and not an American-Communist confrontation on Asian soil. We will have paved the way for the ultimate step, the petition for Vietnamese peace-keeping action regulated by the U.N.

(In the next issue of Tech Talk, I will discuss the United Nations concerning this problem.)

Benches Bought by Circle K

By Connie Lawrio

As the golden sun flooded over the sloping grounds of the Broome Tech campus early one crisp, fall morning, it betrayed a lanky silhouette lurking behind a burdensome heap of redwood slats. Enter: Gene McNulty, Circle K president, and company.

With the superior cooperation of the Campus Beautification Committee, which pointed our heroes in the right direction and yelled, "charge"; and an endowment from the Student-Faculty Association, Broome techers can now rest their weary bodies on one of the four redwood benches located on the patio of the S.U.B.

Our hats off to your most successful efforts to add a little bit of home to our campus, Circle K. Well . . . at least make our resting place a little softer. Those stones get pretty hard!

J. Farmer of CORE To Speak Here Tuesday

by Bill Trzeciak

James Farmer, National Director of the Congress of Racial Equality, will speak at Broome Tech on "The Civil Rights Crisis" at a convocation Tuesday, Nov. 16. The student handbook inadvertently had it listed as November 17. It will definitely be held on the 16th at 2:52 p.m. The classes will be shortened accordingly.

He will also appear at Binghamton Central High School at a dinner with local CORE leaders between 6 and 8 p.m. that evening and later at an open house sponsored by CORE at the Interracial Association House on Carroll Street.

Texas Native

What sort of man does it take to lead the most dynamic movement of discontent to hit the country in the last two decades? Mr. Farmer, son of a scholar and grandson of a slave, possesses a phenomenal strength of character and a high level of intelligence. The forty-five-year-old Texas native, earned his B.S. Degree in chemistry at Wiley College in Marshall, Texas, when he was only eighteen years old. He then enrolled in the School of Religion at Howard University in Washington, D.C., to study for the Methodist Ministry. During this time he was Vice Chairman of the National Council of Methodist Youth and the Christian Youth Council of North America. In 1941 he received his bachelor of divinity degree. He refused ordination, however, because the Methodist churches in the South were still at that time segregated. "I didn't see how I could honestly preach the Gospel of Christ in a church that practiced discrimination."

CORE Started in 1942

Mr. Farmer and a group of others organized CORE in 1942. He served as its first National Chairman and became the National Director in 1961. He has also worked for the Fellowship of Reconciliation, the NAACP, and several labor unions. He has pioneered such tactics as freedom rides, sit-ins, stand-ins and recently the jail-ins. Under Farmer's leadership, CORE has intended to "substitute bodies for exhortations," using the techniques of passive resistance and non-violence that Ghandi used in the struggle for Indian independence. Although it is not the oldest of the racial equality groups, CORE has proven to be the strongest and most enthusiastic body of young Negroes and whites struggling to achieve racial equality.

The Thinker

by Gleason Snashall

Ann Landers brought up a valid point in her speech before our student body. How does a Broome Tech student explain to another college student that he attends Broome Tech.

I contend that the conversation might go like this:

Gasorp is the BTCC student; Ralph attends the other college.

Ralph: Just what does Broome Tech have to offer a student?

Gasorp: Well, we have excellent transfer programs, fine technical curricula . . .

Ralph: Enough, so they brainwashed you with that malarky. I'm talking about the important things, like burning draft cards. How many has your college burned?

Gasorp: Jeech, isn't that against the law? I don't think that we burn them. I guess we just accept our deferments without a lot of fuss.

Ralph: OK, so you're a bunch of patsies. When was your last student riot against overbearing administration officials? How many men went to jail for it.

Gasorp: Oh, you mean orientation. Boy, did we have a lot of fun picking on the freshmen. Made them wear their beanies for four days. We had a mixer and picnic . . .

Ralph: No, no! You idiot! I mean pickets, window breaking and stuff like that.

Gasorp: Most Broome Tech students are too poor to break windows. Besides, we haven't got any union to picket for, but we do have a Student Union Building.

Ralph: Aren't you worried about computers turning you into just a number?

Gasorp: Now, you're joking. Our 1920 has trouble with simple arithmetic. How could it ever turn us into a number; although we have a number of L.A. instructors who hate IBM.

Ralph: Surely you must have fraternities and sororities to liven up the campus with booze and big parties?

Gasorp: We have one fraternity, Phi Theta Kappa, our honor society. They're a rather timorous group content with making good marks and being good citizens.

Ralph: Don't you have anything to offer our conscientious generation? You must do something to show your dissatisfaction with the world which our parents are leaving us.

Gasorp: Well, we did have an everbrown tree on our quad-rangle . . . but now . . . ?

Business Club Car Wash Today

by Pat Curry

The Business Club is sponsoring a car wash today at the Civil Defense Building and is extending the usual organizational plea "PLEASE HELP US." It's the usual plea, but for a most unusual cause. The proceeds of the car wash will be divided between the Binghamton, Johnson City, Endicott and Vestal Junior Chambers of Commerce to help finance their annual Children's Christmas Shopping Tour. This tour is organized and financed by the Jaycees in cooperation with a local merchant of their respective areas.

The Business Club, therefore, asks your wholehearted support in order that the many needy and underprivileged children in the area have some money to buy their Mom and Dad, brothers and sisters, a Christmas present that they otherwise would never have been able to give.

With your support, we can attain the true spirit of Christmas, and also have a clean car for "King Tech". Will You Help?

Choir Capers

Under the direction of our new music director, Mr. Charles Stanley, and accompanied by the piano by Ellen Buck, the Broome Tech Choir will be opening its round of public appearances at the Chenango Valley Junior-Senior High School Nov. 19. The group will be the participants in a senior high school convocation.

Later that evening they will be performing for the rededication of the recently remodeled facilities of the Port Dickinson Community Baptist Church.

Among their repertoire will be a group of seven poems by Robert Frost put to music by Randall Thompson under the title of "Frostiana"; a Beethoven selection, "Coral Fantasia" and a most unusual number by Ernst Toch, titled "Valse", which was arranged for a speaking choir.

"The Christmas Story", a contemporary work by Ron Nelson, will be the major work performed at the Choir's annual Christmas Concert, Dec. 7, in the college gymnasium.

Alumni Activity

Where have all the alumni gone, long time passing? Simply, they have gone out into the wonders of the world.

They are out working, studying, in the Armed Forces, or have gotten married. From an employment report of last year's 309 graduates, 202 are employed, 107 have gone on to further their education and a few have not sent in specific reports.

Those who are working have acquired good paying jobs. 20% at $3,500-$4,000, 25% at $4,000-$4,500, 25% at $5,000-$5,500 and 25% at $5,500-$6,000.

Out of 107 students going on to college, 62 are from the Liberal Arts Department and the remaining 45 are evenly divided from among the other eight curriculums.

Several local companies, as well as many out-of-town and out-of-state companies, interviewed and employed most of the 1965 graduates.

Multiple Marriages Are 'Legalized'

Lazy Minds

by Bill Trzeciak

Trees point skyward,
Grass grows green,
Winds are wayward,
What does it mean?

Children like toys,
Clouds like the sky,
Girls like boys,
Have they ever wondered why?

No one wants to search,
To seek out all the whys.
No one asks "how come"?
They see but with their eyes.

It's too much trouble, and too much toil,
To go beyond the physical.
If only more would take the time,
To learn of ideas mystical.

Yes, the thinker has few friends,
But not because he's crazy,
It is only for this fact,
Too many minds are lazy.

Discotheque Discontent

by Bill Trzeciak

Legs and arms astray,
Faces and eyes meeting,
Red, green, blue, gray,
Thoughts; only fleeting,
Dancing and singing,
Touching and kissing,
Fast and constant mingling,
Whatever could be missing?

Linda Collier Receive Award

Miss Linda Collier of Cooperstown, New York, received a $100 scholarship, awarded by the Broome County Dental Society. Presented to Miss Collier by the president of the society, Dr. Michael Rudik, this award is given to the DH displaying outstanding clinical ability, scholarship and personality during her freshman year.

Student dress and decorations like this gave the Student Center a real Dogpatch atmosphere at the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Mary and Andy Czebiniak display their talent of Ukrainian dancing at the recent Circle K talent show held for the benefit of the United Fund.

As I See It!

by Joan Russell

If predictions are in order, Student Council may soon be on its feet again — at least if the Vice President of the organization has anything to say about it.

Two meetings decide little when compared to a whole year, but these two meetings have been quite enlightening.

Moe Battisti may be ONLY the Vice-President, but he's the kind of officer the organization has been needing for a long time. It's impossible for Student Council to remain a figurehead and expect to see things done, and Moe realizes it. He pointed out that Student Council was at the bottom of the Student Activiies' totem pole. And to quote Moe: "I don't like anyone sitting on my head."

He wants a number of things: first, to organize the council into a working body; and then get it moving. He's got a good start. With parliamentary procedure as his basis, he intends to have control of the meetings. This effective control would limit useless bantering among Council members, and everyone knows most of what came from "the heart of the campus" in the past was only talk.

Moe is pushing for a type of student government that will do more than its necessary functions. He knows that only by taking a stand on issues campus-wise, in the surrounding community, and nationally can we obtain recognition as an honest-to-goodness, living, breathing college with good student leadership.

If any organization needs our support, it is our student government, and Moe is asking for that support. If the Student Council has something worthwhile to say, the least we can do is listen.

$1.98 Deluxe Weddings Real Popular

Sadie Hawkins reigned supreme Oct. 30 as victims of marital bliss danced to the assorted tunes of Cal Dutrick and his Rhythm Kings. This was the long-awaited evening of the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance, where the women folk took the initiative and escorted the fellows.

The scene was the gymnasium, transposed into that elite community of Dogpatch by bales of hay, a mountain shack and a "still" in the night. The wearing apparel was strictly "dress down" and it was easy to see that many Tech students knew how to take advantage of this.

Terry Lifgren hosted the main contest of date-wrapping with what else but toilet paper. Dan Little and his date, Jean Rose, walked off with the prize for neatness. In the cider drinking contest frosh Fred Sisson demonstrated his ability for chugging, with Mudge Patterson drizzling in a close second.

The highlight of the evening was the $1.98 Deluxe marriage ceremony, provided by Marryin' Sam. The reluctant groom, Tom Sprague, proceeded to the marryin' block to promise all his corn licker to the anxious bride, Carolyn Torpy. As the evening progressed, everyone was a bride or groom several times over and all departed on honeymoons, with thanks and congratulations to John Shilla-beer and the Social Committee.

... Farmer

Besides being the major policy-maker and project-planner, Farmer has been an active leader in carrying out the group's activities and has suffered most of the same consequences as other demonstrators. He was one of the original Freedom Riders and spent forty days in jail in 1961. In 1963, he and 232 other volunteers were arrested in Plaquemine, Louisiana for "disturbing the peace and obstructing the sidewalk." He was imprisoned again in 1964 in New York City along with 300 other CORE members, who had assembled there to protest against many states with pavilions at the World's Fair, which have practiced discrimination. In the spring and summer of this past year he has led demonstrations in Bogalusa, Louisiana.

Last June, Mr. Farmer was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities from Morgan State College in Baltimore. He is married and has two daughters.

Because of his prominence, his intelligence and the timeliness of his topic, James Farmer's speech next Tuesday will be one of the most worthwhile convocations of the year. No student with an interest in the race problem, pro or con, can afford to miss "The Civil Rights Crisis."

FARLOP

by Bill Trzeciak

Scubbee...doo...dum...dum...doop...poop...peedo, Well, hello there! I'm just sitting around thinking up ways to end the war in Vietnam. Not that I care about the spread of communism... I'm just a little tired of demonstrations. I understand that the government has called out Smokey the Bear to combat the draft card burnings. They tell me the W.C.T.U. is in favor of draft card burning...once the card is destroyed the guy has trouble getting into the bars. Then there was the young athlete who, when told he must report for his draft physical, worried about it so much they refused him because of hypertension.

Remember all those guys who got married in August to beat the draft and then the "Great White Father" took the deferment away? This is a sample of what a letter from one of those wives might sound like:

"Dear Herbie,

It is Herbie isn't it? Or is it Herman? Well, anyway, hubby, how is the war business going? Are they feeding you well? Don't worry about it though. As soon as you come home (if you do) I'll have your favorite meal ready for you, if you'll write and tell me what it is.

Your not going out on me over there are you? Is it true that they have women in the Vietnamese army? I don't want to sound jealous or anything. After all, I still have your fraternity pin. When are you going to save enough to buy that wedding ring you promised me on our honeymoon at the drive-in? Remember what the justice of the peace said about his brother-in-law in the discount jewelry business.

I read in the paper the other day that the Viet Cong dropped pictures of a nude woman over the U.S. soldiers to demoralize them. Tell me, was she as pretty as me? I have enclosed a picture of me (fully clothed) so you can compare.

By the way, happy anniversary! I think it's next Tuesday, isn't it? Let me see, if I can remember the day. I had my braces taken off on the 4th, I went back to the dentist's office on the 7th to pay the bill and that's where I met you. We were married three days later and that would make it the 10th, or was it four days later, making it the 11th? Oh, well, happy anniversary, anyway.

By the way, you are a father. It was a boy. He came three weeks ago and he hasn't got a letter from the draft board yet. He has blue eyes, just like you. You do have blue eyes, don't you? Or were they green? What color is your hair? I forgot. He must look like you. He doesn't look a bit like me.

Well, I have to go to work now. All my love and please write back.

May the bird of paradise fly up your rifle.

Your wife Irma, remember?"

If I may interject a serious thought. I wholeheartedly support the United States' actions in Vietnam.

Basketball Season Opens November 20

Connelly Chosen Regional All-Star

Bill Connelly, captain of Broome Tech's soccer team, has been named to the region NJCAA second team. Being the only member of the Hornets to be selected for this team, Bill is so honored because of his spectacular record as a goalie (racking up over 200 saves in the 1964 season; 160 this year) and also for his performance in general as a member of the team. Bill, a Business Senior, participated in various varsity athletics in high school and is establishing an outstanding record at B.T.C.C.

It should also be noted that Bill Connelly was recently appointed to the Athletic Board of Control. Bill now exists as a voting member and student representative. Bill, no doubt, will execute his position with the highest regard for it and to the best of his abilities.

Freshmen standouts on this year's soccer team were Bill Seymer, Al Wells, Ron Smith, John Siczkos, and Frank Fettuccia.

First Game Here Against Alumni Five

The 1965-66 Broome Tech basketball season begins Nov. 20 against the Alumni, and the Hornets have an attractive 27-game schedule lined up.

Highlights of the schedule include the annual Christmas Classic in which Wright Junior College of Chicago, New York City Tech and Erie Tech of Buffalo will compete against the Hornets.

The freshman teams from St. Bonaventure, Cornell and Syracuse universities all play here also. The Hornets open defense of their Empire State Conference championship here against Monroe Community College of Rochester on Dec. 3.

- The schedule:
- Nov. 20 — Alumni
  - Nov. 22 — Baptist Bible Seminary
  - *Dec. 3 — Monroe
  - Dec. 4 — Nassau
  - *Dec. 8 — at Auburn

- *Feb. 26 — at Alfred Tech
- * Empire State Conference games

Tech Cheerleaders Selected

The 1965-66 Broome Tech cheerleaders have been selected among approximately 50 candidates.

Depending on the mid-term grades, nine of the following will become regulars while the others will be subs: Diane Saleeby, Carol Ann Santoni, Chris Shaw, Dorothy Chrystal, Linda Mancini, Ann Miller, Sally Opeka, Pat Okenica, Elizabeth Ferranti, Cindy Ryan, Betty Silvanic, Susan Barrath, Linda Koerbel and Fran Ondrako.

The girls, instructed by the Catholic Central cheerleaders, were judged on their appearance, coordination, voice, pep and jump. Under the point system, the judges, Mrs. Lillian Nezlek, Mr. Stephen Konowalow, Mrs. Josephine Seminski and Mrs. Irene Campo, selected the top 14 girls.

The girls will lead cheers at all home games, and if they can recruit a bus load of Broome Tech supporters, they will also travel to some away games.

The future spirit-rousers have selected Chris Shaw as their president, Betty Silvanic as secretary and Diane Saleeby as treasurer.

The first point of business for the cheerleaders will be a bake sale to raise money for uniforms. It will be soon, so watch for it. Why not support them — after all, they are supporting your team!

Hornet Booters Close With 2 Setbacks

Broome Tech couldn't have picked a tougher soccer opponent if it had tried. Keystone Junior College, rated third in the nation last year, beat Broome 6-1 recently and then the Hornets finished the season by losing to Hudson Valley 6-2.

Bob French played his most aggressive game of the season against Keystone. He stood out both on defense and offense. Unfortunately for Bob and Broome, he injured his ankle and missed the Hudson Valley game. Frank Fettuccia came through again by scoring Broome's only goal.

Hudson Valley led the Hornets 3-0 at the half, and we rallied with 2 goals to make it 3-2, before Hudson came back with three goals to finish the game.

The Hornets' goals were made by Frank Fettuccia and Ron Smith, and Al Wells played well also.

LA Seniors Cop Intramural Flag Football

The Liberal Arts Seniors achieved a perfect 8-0-0 record in the flag football intermurals conducted during October. The Chemical Seniors (last year's trophy winners) came in second with 6 wins, 1 loss and 1 tie. This accomplishment by the Liberal Arts Seniors is the first step towards the President's Trophy. Soccer, second in the series of intramural games, started competition on November 3rd.

Hurricane 9

The Liberal Arts Senior girls walked away with a victory over the Business Seniors, 8-0. This was a rematch for both teams after playing previously to a grueling 0-0 tie. The Business Frosh girls retaliated for the esteemed Seniors, as they romped over the Liberal Arts Frosh, 12-0. These teams have mean lines and tough looking backers, as they congregate several times a week for their football "rehearsal."

Business Club

James Becker, a newly appointed marketing manager for the International Business Machines Company, told Broome Tech's Business Club last Wednesday how IBM develops programs to serve their customers better.

Mr. Becker illustrated his talk with slides of IBM computers and their use in a wide variety of fields.

State CISGA Group To Meet at Tech

Broome Tech will host an important conference on Student Government November 21 and 22 when Region IV of the College and Institutes' Student Government Association (C.I.S.G.A.) convenes here.

Representatives from eight New York State colleges will discuss problems of student government during the two-day conference.

In conference discussion groups, the case-study method will be used. The leader of each group will present an hypothetical question, which the group will discuss and attempt to answer.

Arrangements for the conference have been made by Dennis Telfer (LA 66), state Vice-President of C.I.S.G.A. and Diane Brown.

Representatives from Erie Tech, Alfred Tech, Corning Community College, Monroe Community College, Jamestown Community College, Niagara Community College and Broome Tech will attend.

Wrestling

Wrestling Practice began Nov. 1st. Anyone interested should make every effort to attend practices held in the small gym.

A view of the recent Dinner-Meeting held at the Student Center. (see editorial)

ALL FULL-TIME STUDENTS may pick up their BASKETBALL SEASON PASSES at the Athletic Office NEXT WEEK (Nov. 15-19) between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. (First home game is November 20th.)
